Tygers' Power Flattens Euclid, 42 to 6

End Jets' Winning Streak

Tucker Scores Three Times

By FRED THARP
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

Mansfield Senior high unlimbered a devastating ground and air attack last night to knock the Euclid high school Jets out of the undefeated clouds with a convincing 42-to-6 thump at Arlin field.

The Torrid Tygers put on their best offensive display of power of the season in rolling up six touchdowns on the Euclid team which had won four straight contests. Senior high has now won four straight since dropping its opener to Akron South.

With big A. C. Jenkins, the ace Tyger leather lugger, spending most of the game on the bench, the rest of the Senior high pigskin bombers rambled through the Euclid defenders for a startling total of 477 yards, 378 on the ground.

Jenkins was hurt early in the second quarter and thereafter appeared in only three plays as a defensive halfback.

SPEEDSTERS SCORE

However, the pint-sized speed boys of the Tygers, Tommy Tucker and Johnny Bricker, took up the slack in decisive fashion. Tucker galloped across the pay-off stripe three times and toted the leather for a total of 174 yards on 16 carries. That was the best ground eating any Bengal back had done all season. He scored on runs of two, 23 and 38 yards.

Bricker played his best brand of ball also, getting 88 yards on nine tries.

Mansfield scored the first two times it got possession of the ball, but during the remainder of the first half was unable to do much with the Jets. Euclid made its only bid on a 93-yard march after the second Tyger touchdown.

Fred Baldassarre returned Jenkins' kickoff 25 yards to the

Grumpy Aids Chest Drive

Snow White and six dwarfs convinced "Grumpy" that he should get out and dig for the Community Chest in a skit presented at half-time at Arlin field last night.

The message of the Community Chest and the entertainment of the Marching Tyger band combined to form a show around the story of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs.

And, old "Grumpy" lived up to his name by refusing to wear the Red Feather.

But not even "Grumpy could hold out when the Tyger band played the songs "Whistle While You Work", and "Hi Ho", and Snow White, portrayed by Jean Turner, sang an original song about the Community Chest.

The 16 Tygerettes last night had white shields bearing a Red Feather. They were in the lead when Snow White appeared on the field on her throne followed by the dwarfs.

After "Grumpy" joined Snow White and the other dwarfs in the Community Chest drive, the field was turned over to the Tyger band.

The bandsmen, with red lights in their caps, formed a huge Red Feather while the stadium lights were out.

Euclid's band featured 10 dancing majorettes performing to "Put Your Arms Around Me." The band ably handled a series of trick marching formations.

Fire prevention week had its minute before the bands took the field.

The 9,500 fans were requested to light matches or cigaret lighters. Then the stadium lights were turned off, throwing the field into darkness except for the gleam of the thousands of matches and lighters.

Then the crowd was told to blow out the flames and hold the matches until the ends were cool as an example of what to do to prevent fires.

MRS. ROBERT A. TAFT

Mrs. Taft Taken Ill At Galion

Hemorrhage Halts Speech

GALION — Mrs. Martha Taft, wife of Sen. Robert A. Taft, scheduled to speak before the Business and Professional Women's club last night, was unable to complete her address because of illness.

Mrs. Taft suffered a nasal hemorrhage shortly after she began speaking. Under the care of a nurse and physician for nearly an hour, she was advised to give up the remainder of her speaking engagement. She did, however, remain to meet the guests at the close of the BPW meeting.

During the few minutes that she was able to speak to the club, Mrs Taft gave the 150 members and guests present for the session, a few pungent remarks to remember.

"I think that the women of America," she declared "will make unlimited progress and will have unlimited opportunity in re-establishing the ideal of liberty throughout the world. America's liberty was the model of the world during the 19th century. It is being threatened by the pattern of Totalitarianism that has sprung up in the 20th century."

Mrs. Taft was introduced last night by Mrs. W. W. Wheatcraft chairman of the BPW legislative committee and an Ohio Republican committee woman. As Mrs. Taft began her talk, she was interrupted by William Arnold, managing director of the Galion Chamber of Commerce, who presented her with a certificate for a new coat, the gift of the Statbury Manufacturing company of Galion. She was measured for the coat and it will be sent to her later.

Last night's meeting opened with a banquet, with Miss Veronica Kelley, president, in charge. The meeting closed with songs by the Girls' glee club of the BPW with Mrs. W. W. Koppe directing.

Mrs. Taft returned to Washington today, where it is expected she will undergo a complete physical check-up. She has been on a rigid speaking tour throughout the state in behalf of her husband. Mrs. Taft came to Galion yesterday from Cincinnati, where she had filled several speaking engagements

Cash, Check, Forger Gone

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — A prosperous looking man who presented a forger check at the Broad Street Trust company and walked out with $15,000 in bills is sought by police today.

Bank officials told police the forged check also is missing.

Officials said the man presented one of the bank's own counter checks, with the date and amount typed in, at a branch office on Broad street yesterday.

It bore the forged signature of James R. Affleck, partner in the William Penn Flour company, here.

CIO, AFL Leaders Silent

Won't Talk About 'Pact'

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va.—(AP)—Cool silence from rival union leaders today hung over John L. Lewis' dramatic bid for a united labor front in the coal and steel strikes. But a few low mutterings of dissent could be heard just offstage.

AFL President William Green had no comment on the United Mine Workers chief's suggestion yesterday that nine of his international unions join with the miners to provide a proposed $2,500,000 a week for Philip Murray's striking steelworkers.

Murray, at Pittsburgh, was just as silent.

But in Washington, an official at AFL headquarters had this to say:

"If the steel workers need any help, they are certainly capable of asking for it themselves."

And a group of Lewis' own miners voiced their opposition to the plan. The St. Michael, Pa., UMW Local 3448 — 500 members — wired its chief:

"We believe a kitty should be raised to alleviate poverty in the mining fields first. The policy of advocating bread for every other Johnny except Johnny Miner can have no other effect than to demoralize the digger.

"If you visit the coal regions the economic conditions would be self evident that charity begins at home."

STRIKES CONFLICT

Observers also noted that the steel strike was putting a crimp in Lewis' bargaining with the coal operators. As long as steel plants weren't gulping coal into their huge furnaces, it left that much more for the more moderate users.

And the higher the coal stockpile stood, the longer the coal operators could hold out against the miners' demands.

George H. Love, chief spokesman for the northern and western mine owners who have been negotiating at this resort for four months, said the operators would accept government seizure rather than "cut our own throats" by yielding to Lewis' demands.

Lewis was wearing them down somewhat, however. There were recurring reports that some Indiana and Illinois operators were ready to sign a contract with the miners.

The movement was concealed carefully, and major operators holding the line against Lewis denied vigorously that there was any giving in.

Dwarf Cattle Found In 'Lost Canyon'

JAMESTOWN, N. D. —(UP)— Animal trainer Gene Holter claimed today that he discovered a herd of dwarf cattle in a "lost canyon" and captured five head, removing them by helicopter.

Holter, 27-year-old former rodeo rider, said he had the animals locked in his barn. He wouldn't let newsmen see them, however, because he has a contract with a national magazine for exclusive picture rights

He said he had heard rumors of the lost canyon and its strange herd of miniature cattle for several years and finally located it.

The cattle, he said, were 24 to 28 inches high and weighed from 160 to 220 pounds.

"They're very fleet-footed, like a sheep or goat," he said.

"Except for that, they're exact small-sized replicas of ordinary herefords, even to the reddish-brown coat."

The five he has under lock and key in his barn are two cows and three bulls, he said. He estimated their age at one to three years.

"I've really no idea why they grew so small," he said.

"There're several possibilities, however. Maybe it's some chemical in the valley's water or forage grass. Then again, the dwarf herd could have resulted from inbreeding of a freak that cropped up in a normal herd trapped in the canyon."

DEEP, DARK SECRET

He wouldn't tell where the canyon was located, other than that it definitely was not in Colorado

"There's about 20 more head in there and the magazine is going to send photographers along when I try to get them out," Holter said.

The captured cattle were "wild" at first but have since become "quite tame," he said

Confesses Burglaries

A 19-year-old Mansfield reformatory parolee, released last July 20, confessed yesterday to Cincinnati police he had participated in 14 burglaries since his parole.

The parolee, identified as Ervin Myers, 19, was arrested, along with three other youths, while allegedly attempting to rob the Overlook Hardware company in Cincinnati early Friday.

Myers, who served time in OSR for burglary, made the statement on his recent burglaries to Police Lt. Orville Burleson and Detectives Stanley Grause, Albert Mullen and Paul Purcell.

Acting OSR Superintendent George J. Allarding said Myers was received on Aug. 10, 1948 from Hamilton county to serve one to 15 years for burglary.

Arrested on charges of attempted burglary with Myers were Edwin Wogenstahl 20; Robert Bemerer, 19, and James McGowan, 18.

Holiday Plan OK'd

Ohio Brass, Union Reach Agreement

A wage settlement providing six paid holidays for all Ohio Brass employes and an increase in company paid life insurance was ratified last night by United Electrical Workers, Local 758, union officials said today.

The settlement, the union said, was negotiated by the union committee and calls for the holidays for all the firm's employes on the payroll 30 days or more, and an increase from $1,000 to $2,000 in life insurance, to be paid entirely by the company.

William Kozma, chairman of the Ohio Brass unit of the local, said today "the workers voted acceptance of the settlement, realizing that by April 1, 1950 they will be able to re-open both wage and contract matters."

Kozma said the membership accepted this settlement with the understanding that next April the union will reopen the contract to discuss pensions and other wage matters.

Hourly wage increases was determined in this series of negotiations, which began July 27. There were five meetings with the company before settlement, the union said

Cash Whisks Away From Hiding Spot

A new broom sweeps too clean. Mary Cantrell, 130½ North Main street, is convinced today.

Mrs. Cantrell had $7.50 hidden inside a broom but the money was missing after a neighbor borrowed the sweeper to clean the steps.

Both Mrs. Cantrell and Ellen Niesdermier, the neighbor, searched for the money but it appeared to have been whisked (no pun intended) away.

Reds Near, British Arm Hong Kong

Communists In Heart of Canton

HONG KONG — (UP) — Chinest communist troops occupied downtown Canton early today and 40,000 British troops in Hong Kong immediately went on a full war footing.

British army convoys loaded with barbed wire rolled out to the border between the crown colony and China proper and dispatch riders began carrying Sten guns as permanent armament.

The British army planned to meet the communist threat by staging a large-scale show of force Sunday in the rural areas adjacent to the Chinese-British border.

A telegraph message from Canton said communist troops entered the former nationalist capital in force during the night and took over the downtown business area today.

Communications were resumed after a temporary breakdown last night when nationalist demolitions severed power lines.

Nationalist reconnaissance pilots reported that black palls of smoke from burning airports and military depots obscured Canton as the triumphant communist troops marched in.

The pilots reported thousands of communist troops were pouring into Canton from the north and west by foot and by truck for the official turnover ceremony at the municipal building.

Meanwhile, communist troops seized all six military airports around Canton, which were still blazing from nationalist demolitions. A Chinese customs report said the Canton customs offices in the center of the town also were seized.

Baby Saved, Toddles Back Into Flames

YOUNGSTOWN — (AP) — A two-year-old boy, carried to safety when fire broke out in his farm home near here last night, toddled back inside and lost his life.

Coroner David A Belinky said Garry Weingart, son of Mr and Mrs. Eldon Weingart, died of asphyxiation and burns

The house caught fire when Mrs. Weingart attempted to start an oil fire. The fuel exploded.

Mrs Weingart grabbed Garry and his eight-year-old sister and carried them to safety. She then returned to rescue two Salem children who had been left in her care.

The youngster apparently followed his mother unnoticed into the flaming building. His body was found in a corner of the kitchen 15 minutes later.

Police Catch Killer of Two

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — A prisoner disarmed and fatally shot two policemen at police headquarters in suburban Overland late last night.

The prisoner escaped but was captured about 7 a. m. (EST) today after an all-night search in which scores of policemen took part. He offered no resistance when he was taken into custody at a house in St. Louis.

Police Chief Brown Hairgrove of Overland identified him as John D. Johnson, 26. Victims of the shooting were Sgt Pelham C Scott, 48, and Patrolman Edward C. Juettemeyer, 30.

Prober Presses Demands

Velde Seeks Early Decision

WASHINGTON —(INS) — A House spy prober today urged the Justice department to press for an early supreme court decision on the conviction of 11 communist leaders in order to clear the way for prosecution of state and local Red officials.

Rep. Velde (R) Ill., a member of the House un-American Activities committee, said the government's drive against the communist party must be pushed to counter plans to make the party an "underground movement."

He disclosed that committee investigators are going to pay particular attention to any "underground" trend within the party as a result of Friday's jury verdict of "guilty" against the 11 leaders.

Velde spoke to newsmen as Washington officials speculated on the big question posed by the New York trial: Does the guilty verdict mean that the communist party is outlawed in the United States?

Stating the need for a final supreme court ruling on the convictions, Velde said:

URGES SWIFT ACTION

"If the communist party follows the same dilatory tactics adopted during the New York trial, it could conceivably delay a final decision for five or ten years. I think action of a positive nature is required sooner than that."

Announcement of the New York jury's decision yesterday drew a round of applause in the House. Some saw in the jury's action a signal for a national drive to wipe out all "subversive" elements in the country.

Senator Mundt (R-SD) said the convictions emphasize the need for speedy passage of the Mundt-Nixon bill which he helped write last year.

"This bill," Mundt added, "makes communists cut the umbilical cord binding them to Mother Russia or suffer the consequences for their disloyal and un-American activities."

Moscow newspapers ran the story of the conviction under a caption reading "rough justice to leaders of the American communist party."

The story itself did not comment on the trial and conviction.

The communist Daily Worker, of London, Eng., said the verdict has virtually made the party "illegal in the United States."

However, the communist Daily Worker, in New York, said the party "has not been outlawed" and that the American people would defend its "absolutely constitutional right" to continue to function.

Reds Hang 3 'Spies'

BUDAPEST, Hungary — (UP — Laszlo Rajk, once Hungary's No 2 communist, and two other men were hanged at dawn today for crimes pinned on them in one of the biggest communist treason cases since the Moscow purge in 1938.

Dr. Tibor Szonyi and Andras Szalai went to the gallows with Rajk, a former Hungarian foreign minister and ace defendant in the mass trial before a Budapest people's court which ended Sept. 24.

The foreign ministry announced that the death sentences given three of the eight defendants were carried out at 6 a. m. (midnight EST).

All three were convicted of spying for the Tito regime of Yugoslavia and for western powers. The espionage charge was the keystone of an intricate web of intrigue spun around the defendants in the week-long trial.

The defendants were charged with conspiring with Marshal Tito and American agents to overthrow the communist regime of Hungary.

More Than $750,000 Distributed To Workers

Gorman-Rupp Employes Share Company Profits

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of stories of employes' security as provided by progressive Mansfield industries.

By MARGUERITE MILLER

J. C. Gorman and H. E. Rupp were members of the "army of the unemployed" when they started their factory in Rupp's Alta road barn in 1933. Today, they pass the success of the business that started with a handshake on to their employes.

Now the progressive concern has a worker benefit plan that is recognized nationally as outstanding

At Gorman-Rupp, more than $750,000 has been distributed so far in the company's non-contributory profit-sharing plan which was started in the spring of 1936. An employe at the company begins sharing at the end of three months on a 10 per cent basis. The percentage of share in the fund is stepped up 10 per cent each month until the employe shares 100 per cent at the end of one year's employment.

A non-contributory retirement trust, guaranteeing Gorman-Rupp employes a minimum of $65 per month, was set up in 1942 for employes who put in a minimum of five years with the company. As set up, the trust provides an income in addition to Social Security payments for each employe after his retirement or passes the income on to his beneficiaries in event of his death. Minimum benefits are 35 per cent of base pay and the maximum payments are $125 per month.

A home-ownership plan, devised at the plant, allows down-payment loans to employes at no interest. Under this plan, 60 per cent of the workers have homes paid for and 20 per cent more are purchasing homes.

Another employe benefit at the Gorman-Rupp plant is the Christmas savings plan, started in 1935, and shared by company and employe. After three months' employment with the company, each employe saves $3 per month toward his Christmas spending, the sum of which is matched by the company.

Nearly a half million dollars has been allocated so far to the funds of the 200 participating employes in the profit-sharing plan at Dominion Electric. Under the supervision of an advisory committee composed of both management and employes, the plan was begun in 1942, and profits are distributed in the form of a cash bonus to employes each Christmas.

Eligibility for participation in the plan at Dominion is based on a minimum of three years' service as of July 1 and is limited to 15 per cent of the earnings of the participants. To date, $412,000 has gone into

Gilead Firm To Produce Giant Press

Metal Forming Unit Ordered

MT. GILEAD — A contract for an 18,000-ton hydraulic press, believed to be the largest metal forming press in the world, has been awarded to the local Hydraulic Press Manufacturing company by the National Tube company, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The press will be used for forming heavy pipe for high pressure pipe lines. The pipe will be up to 36 inches in diameter and 40 feet long with a half-inch wall thickness.

The pipe will be made from heavy steel plate and after forming will be automatically seam welded. Production cycle is estimated at 47 seconds per pipe length, exclusive of material handling time.

A conception of the size of the press may be gained from its die mounting surfaces which are 54 by 492 inches. The press will weigh over one million pounds and 5,100 gallons of oil will be required for operation.

The press is a self-contained fastraverse type, being equipped with H-P-M radial piston type pumps with electric motor drives.

Galion VFW Burglarized

GALION — Police are continuing investigation of the burglary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars club rooms, here, which occurred some time between Thursday night and Friday morning.

Approximately $30 was taken from cash drawers and a larger amount which had been hidden elsewhere in the rooms was overlooked.

Entrance to the basement room was believed to have been made by either a key to the outer door or skillful picking of the lock, police theorized. A thin wood panel at the side of the inner door was smashed, and the thief reached through the broken panel to unlock the door.

The theft was discovered at 9:30 a. m. Friday by the club custodian, Verlin Sulser. The larger amount of money which had been overlooked had been hidden by Glen Fowble.

the accounts of the workers eligible.

Distribution of the individual bonuses is based on a four-year period in which the money, deposited to each account, is invested in government bonds and draws interest. The 1945 profit-sharing fund will be distributed this Christmas to employes. Similarly, the $95,000 deposited in the fund last year will be distributed to participating employes at Christmas, 1952.

Company officials say many of the participating employes in the fund have made down payments on homes with the cash bonuses while others have reduced mortgage payments or taken care of emergencies in their families. The plan is non-contributory.

One fiscal year service with the company is the basis for the non-contributory profit-sharing plan at Barnes Manufacturing company. Started in 1942, the fund is composed of 25 per cent of the gross profits of the company prior to tax deductions. Fifty per cent of each employe's share is set aside for him to draw interest. At the end of five years an employe can withdraw the fund for any reason. In the event of death, a man who has worked one year at the company gets the full benefit of five years' participation, or more according to his employment

Also, a man who retires at 65 who has had five years' service with the company at the time of his retirement, reaps the full share of the plan.

Mansfield Tire and Rubber's employment benefit program provides for a company-financed retirement fund, payable in lump sum or monthly payments, the amount governed by the length of service and a company financed athletic and recreation program for the workers.

The retirement program at Westinghouse is said to "start where Social Security leaves off." Under the plan, one per cent of the annual salary or pay over $3,000 goes into an annuity, financed entirely by the company. At the end of the worker's service to the company the retirement fund may be taken out in monthly installments at the maximum rate of $100 per month.

Officials of Ideal Electric corporation report they are actively studying the profit-sharing plan and hope to have it installed by the end of this year. Meanwhile, the non-contributory pension plan, started at the plant in 1945, is available for those workers with a minimum of 10 years continuous service and 35 years or older.

There are two parts to the pension plan at Ideal, the first part the straight pension, drawn at the age of 65 or whenever an employe leaves the company. Part 2 is the insurance policy for beneficiaries, protecting them during employment and given to those workers who physically qualify.

Workers at Ideal can receive their pensions in lump sums or in projected payments, as they desire. The pension is based on 10 per cent of the base pay the worker was receiving upon entering the pension plan. As the worker puts in more years with the company, the salary is reviewed every five years and the pension percentage adjusted accordingly.

There are neither pensions nor retirement plans at the Ohio Brass company. Contributory life and group insurance programs, however, are available.

Lawyers Propose County Buy Church Property In Expansion

Detention Home Plan Offered

Annex Program Termed Inadequate

An alternative plan to the proposed building of a courthouse annex was offered yesterday by the Public Buildings committee of the Richland County Bar association.

The group of attorneys, headed by George W. Biddle, suggested the county purchase the church property at the northeast corner of Diamond and East Second streets as the site for a new detention home.

After the detention home is erected, the attorneys suggest a completely new courthouse and jail.

They offered no estimate of what such a project would cost, but they opposed the building of a courthouse annex—which is proposed in a $300,000 bond issue to be submitted to the voters next month—on grounds the annex would be too expensive and inadequate.

Certain officials have felt for some time that Richland county should have a long-range program for improving the courthouse and jail, providing a detention home and more adequate probate and juvenile court headquarters, a women's quarters in the jail, and general office and storage expansion.

They see this is a project that might require from 10 to 15 years to complete. The proposed courthouse annex would be the first step. Other steps, they think, should be outlined at once and plans drawn so that the program can move along as rapidly as funds become available or conditions permit.

In opposing the $300,000 annex plan, the lawyers' group said:

1. The jail and courthouse have deteriorated too much to build an annex; a new jail and courthouse are needed.

2. A juvenile detention home should be located in a site other than in connection with the jail. Its location in an annex between the jail and courthouse would be inconsistent with the principle of proper detention of juveniles.

3. Building of the annex might grow to a bigger figure than the estimated $300,000. Also, to connect two non-fireproof structures with a new building would not be advisable.

In addition, the committee has been informed that federal agencies, looking forward to the time when public works shall be undertaken similar to this project already have called upon the commissioners for such plans and specifications.

Women Get Spotlight In Book

Pictures Show Feminine Progress

WOMEN ARE HERE TO STAY, by Agnes Rogers, is among the new books for adults which will be available at the Mansfield Public library Monday.

This non-fiction selection is an entertaining book of 502 pictures showing the activities and progress of women during the past 50 years.

Roughly chronological, it shows the sheltered women of the early century, the middy-bloused companion and rival of man, the children of the depression, and the current product of the 1940's. Portraying every type of American womanhood, it is as entertaining as an old family album.

IN THE LAND OF JIM CROW, by Ray Sprigle, is winning warm commendation in northern cities, and even warmer criticism south of the Mason-Dixon line. Sprigle a newspaper reporter assigned to write an article about our racial problem, spent a month in th esummer of 1948 as a Negro. He had heard of Negro's "passing" as white, and reversed the process to find how it felt to be colored in the south. This Pulitzer prize-winning author tells in first person of his experiences.

THE STORY OF MAPS, by Lloyd Brown, was built out of the realization, during the last war, that less than half the world was properly mapped. Cartography is one of the oldest—and one of the newest—of sciences. Here in its most complete form, to date, is the story, and interesting history of the making of maps.

Other non-fiction:

HOW TO BUILD YOUR OWN HOUSE, Tuomey; UNITED NATIONS-ECONOMIC SURVEY OF EUROPE, 1948; GENIUS AND THE MOBACRACY, Wright; MUSICAL USA, Eaton; OUR NATIONAL DEBT; HOLIDAY PARTIES, Spicer; MAKING CONFERENCE PROGRAMS WORK, Stigers; BRITON HADDEN, Busch; DESIGN FOR TENNIS, Browne; THERAPEUTIC GROUP WORK WITH CHILDREN, Konopka; THE TASK OF NATIONS, Evatt.

Fiction:

SILVERLOCK, by John Myers, is the story of the adventures of A. Clarence Shandon of what is today Chicago. Shandon begins by being shipwrecked off the coast of the Commonwealth of Myth and Poetry. From there he moves on in one great adventure with everyone from Robin Hood to Tom Jones in a very whimsical manner.

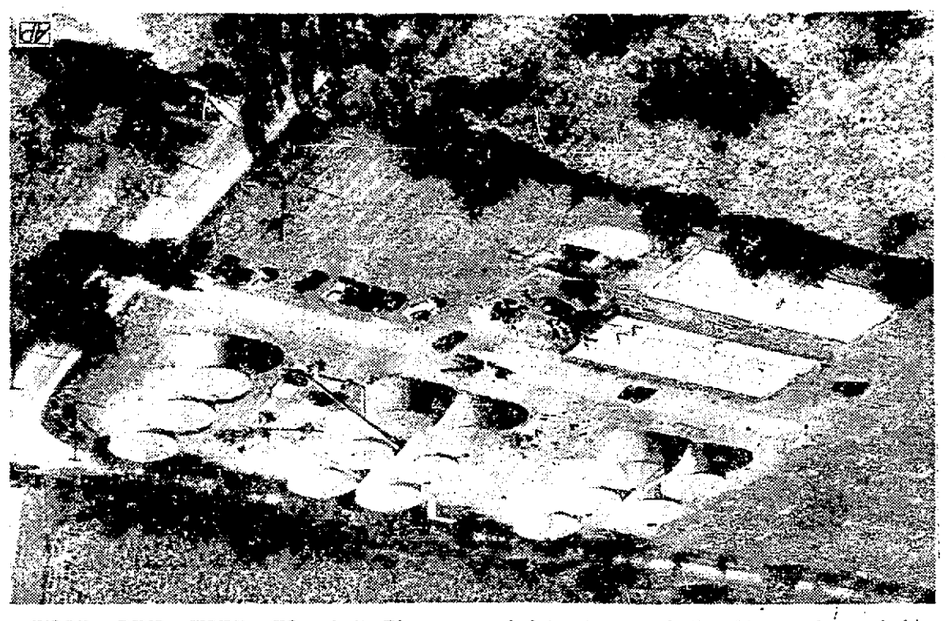
Fannie Cook's ability to paint warm characters comes to life again in her new book THE LONG BRIDGE. It is particularly the story of Annie Carr.

In the middle of the depression the urgency of earning a living overtakes the Carr home. Annie proves herself a strong enough woman to help her son bridge the chasm between the artistic and materialistic worlds, while at the same time helping to preserve his independence and dignity.

THE OLD BANK HOUSE, by Angela Thirkell, brings to life again the English county of Barsetshire. Sam Adams buys the Old Bank House from Miss Sowerly, who regrets Adam's bachelorhood, and plans to do something about it. Full-length portraits of the Grantly family add a new group to the list of old friends for Thirkell admirers.

Other Fiction:

THE GOLDEN APPLES, Welty; HAND ME A CRIME, Russell; THE BASS DERBY MURDER, Knight.



WOOD BINS USED TO STORE BUMPER CROP — Farmers are busy these days filling new round wood bins southeast of Eureka, Ill., in the heart of the Illinois corn belt. Bins are needed to store corn so farmers can get a loan from the government on their grain. The price for corn at markets is less than the government will loan on it. Each of the 14 round wood bins holds 10,000 bushels. Air view shows foundations on which will be erected two 40,000-bushels quonset bins—total of 220,000 bushels of CCC corn will be stored. Heating Unit Lowered Into City Church

Scores of Mansfielders were attracted to the First Lutheran church at Park avenue west and Mulberry street yesterday when workmen were forced to use a giant crane to lift sections of the church's new heating and ventilating units into the steeple then down to the second floor of the church where they will be installed.

The sections were too large to be carried through the entrance, so the crane, which was nearly 100 feet high, was brought into use. The heating and ventilating units are being installed at a cost of $65,000.

Predicts New Draft Call

BOSTON — (INS) — Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey said Friday there may be another draft call "in the near future."

The director of selective service, in Boston on an inspection trip, said he had not received any orders for a draft call, but he based his belief on defense department figures.

He said the draft ended when the ground forces were 25,000 men above quota while they are now 25,000 under quota.

Walter White

Raps Poor Movie On Race Question

For a variety of reasons it would be delightful to be able to join honestly in the praise of critics for "Pinky," the third picture dealing with a subject which has hitherto been taboo in Hollywood. When so much thought, time and money has been put into an effort to make as effective a presentation of the Negro question as Twentieth Century-Fox' "Gentlemen's Agreement" was of the Jewish problem, it is regrettable that the product is not better.

There are some excellent and courageous spots in the film but, unfortunately, they are as infrequent as raisins in a 25-cent fruit cake. There are two scenes showing the contemptuous brutality of southern police officers towards Negroes which are painfully familiar.

There is another one illustrating how little protection of her person an attractive colored girl has when two drunken white men attempt to rape her. Fortunately, Pinky is able to escape chiefly because the fence along the side of the road where she is trapped happened to be flimsy enough for her to break through it and escape across the fields.

There have been a tragic number of real life cases where the fence was sturdy and high.

The film is infinitely better than the novel from which it was adapted or the original script for the picture. Both of them were filled with cliches which had begun to pass out of the southern scene around the turn of the century. In addition, "Pinky" dares to portray with sincerity a love affair between Pinky and the young white doctor with whom she had fallen in love while studying to become a trained nurse in Boston.

One wonders why Dr. Thomas Adams, if he loved Pinky so devotedly, didn't love her enough to remain with her in the south to help raise health standards and conditions among Pinky's people.

These scenes — plus the courage it took to tackle the subject at all — just about exhaust the credit side of the ledger. On the debit side the faults are legion.

The roles of Miss Em played by the great Ethel Barrymore and of Aunt Dicey played by the equally talented Ethel Waters are stock characters straight out of Thomas Nelson Page or Thomas Dixon. They are characteristic of the entire picture in that only one of the stereotypes of the Negro or the south itself is even remotely challenged.

NOISE TOO 'FAKED'

The exception is when Dr. Adams, a Northerner and a stranger, puts his arm tenderly around Pinky in the courtroom which is packed with a presumably infuriated mob whose ferocious howling, however, sounds suspiciously like one of those noises con-trived by a not too expert sounds effect man.

The picture never troubles to indicate where penniless Pinky gets the money to transform the run down, termite ridden old plantation house Miss Em has bequeathed her into a clinic and nursery school.

It does not face the question of how much good an inadequately equipped and staffed clinic can do (except on the theory that a poor one is better than none) or that Pinky's place would give the town immoral justification for the system of spending all its money, raised by taxation of Negro as well as white citizens, on white health.

There is no slightest indication of the considerable growth of decent white opinion in the South towards more just relations between the races and, even more significantly, nothing whatever of the progress towards abolition of segregation as well as discrimination in education which Negroes have achieved through persistent court actions.

Wants Hubby, Advertises

CLEVELAND — (AP) — A 27-year-old mother of two was interviewing applicants for her hand in marriage today.

She said she is looking for a man between 30 and 40 years old who has a house and a steady job.

Mrs. Jean Ziolkowski, a trim-figured divorcee, said she was "tired of supporting myself and my children."

Yesterday the Cleveland woman walked into the Ravenna Evening Record office and announced she wanted to advertise for a husband.

Before the evening was over she had eight calls.

Improper Sleeping Habits Cause Baldness In Men, Barber Claims

NEW YORK—Are you sleeping your hair away?

Well, if you're getting bald, the chances are—says Angelo Mantello—that the way you sleep has a lot to do with it.

Mantello is a middle-aged barber from Wilson, Conn., who spent four decades listening to customers grouse about their hair falling out. And after 40 years of pondering, he's come up with what he thinks is the cause of baldness.

"Such factors as heredity, nervousness and diet have no direct bearing on it," he said. "Baldness results from improper sleeping position.

"Sleeping on the side and burying the forehead into the pillow causes baldness at the temples. Sleeping on the back causes the crown of the head to become bald."

What's a thinning-haired man to do then— sleep standing up like a horse?

"Not necessary," said Mantello. "Just correct your sleeping habits. Get a smaller pillow that won't wrap around your ears—a pillow you won't push up against the end of the bed with the crown of your head.

"And don't sleep with your head on your arms. Wherever your hand or your arm or your pillow hits, you have no hair—in time."

Mantello looked critically at my own forehead, which has receded almost to the rear neck cuff.

★

"There is absolutely no reason for anybody to get bald," he said sternly.

"It's so simple. People try to make hair grow like spaghetti or macaroni—by pressure. But you can't make hair grow that way any more than you can grass.

"Hair treatments that apply heat and massage are double robbery—they take away your money and they take away your hair. They make the hair fall out before it is ripe, or ready to shed. It's like shaking a fruit tree. If you shake the tree hard enough, even the green fruit falls off."

And as for heat, Mantello continued:

"If you wish to pluck a chicken you lower it into hot water until the hot water has softened the skin to such an extent that the feathers can readily be plucked. The same thing happens to the hair when it is subjected to artificial intense heat."

★

Mantello said another factor causing baldness was "shower erosion."

"Always wet your hair. Keep it moist. But wear a bathing cap in the shower.

"Water is the best possible thing you can use on your hair to keep it moist—but it dries too fast. No hair tonic can do you any good except to keep the hair moist and in place."

Mantello has put all this barberchair philosophy in a small booklet. After glancing through its pages, I asked:

"If an improper sleeping position is the cause of baldness, why aren't more women bald? They use pillows."

"Well, since women started cutting their hair shorter, more of it does fall out." he said. "But one reason they don't get as bald as men is that they wear their hair longer, and that helps keep the scalp moist."

And how do you cure baldness?

"If you don't get bald," said Mantello, tossing his black hair, "you don't need a cure. It's always harder to raise grass on a lawn after you put concrete over it."

Shakeup Looms In Naval Command

Prowlers, Thefts Keep Police Busy

Man Takes Jewelry, Purse From House

Mansfield police officers were kept busy Friday night and early this morning answering reports of prowlers, a theft and a car looting.

John Harding, 499 Daisy street, reported to police at 10:47 p. m. Friday that on arriving home from the football game he saw a man looking into the window of his home. He could give officers no description of the man, who ran west on Harker street.

At 1 a. m. today William Whisler, Lexington, R. D. 1, reported to the police that someone had stolen several articles of clothing from his car parked at East Fourth and Diamond streets.

Whisler said he had left the car unlocked when he parked it at 11:45 p. m., and when he returned a Navy peacoat, a woman's black chesterfield coat, a woman's gray cloth coat, a blue raincoat and a flashlight were missing. He also told officers that keys to the car were in one of the stolen coats, so the car was towed to a Mansfield garage where the owner claimed it this morning.

THIEF TAKES JEWELRY

Mrs. Ralph Gore, 82 East First street, called police at 1:31 a. m. today after a man, whom she described as wearing a brown hat pulled down over his face, entered the kitchen of her home through an unlocked door and took her purse, containing a set of rhinestone earrings, a compact and a billfold with no money in it, from the kitchen table.

Mrs. Gore told investigating officers she was lying on the davenport in the living room when she saw the man enter the kitchen. Officers searched the vicinity but could not find the man.

Police went to a tavern in East Mansfield at 3 a. m. today following a call from a West Dickson avenue woman that her 30-year-old husband had gone there with a gun to "shoot a man."

Officers arrived just as the man was leaving his car, and found a 16-gauge shotgun loaded with two shells, on the front seat of the man's car.

He was being held by police for investigation today.

Oil Progress Week Planned

Mansfield oil and gasoline dealers will observe the 90th anniversary of the first well drilled for oil at Titusville, Pa., in 1859, next week.

Mayor Roy Vaughn has issued a proclamation naming next week as Oil Progress Week in Mansfield.

Charles Beard, district manager of the Canfield Oil company and chairman of the Mansfield organizations have observed the special week. Window cards, pennants, and special advertising will be used to remind Mansfielders of the anniversary of the founding of the oil industry.

Assisting Beard on the Mansfield committee are Earl Massa, Consumers Petroleum; Hugh Sutter, Gulf Oil company; M. E. Snyder, Pure Oil company.

Players Given $235 Worth of Equipment

Twenty-two members of the Newman school football team will trot out on the sandlots this fall in full regalia because of the help of the Horse club of the Sons and Daughters of Herman.

The team members were presented with new helmets, shoulder pads and football pants as gifts of the club. The equipment represented a cash outlay of $235, obtained from Horse club membership subscriptions.

Nick Weber, is co-chairman with Jacob Urschel of the sports committee. Urschel was assisted in this project by John Sheets who served when Weber was unable to act.

The horse club was formed originally "just for fun" by Frank Mitsch, Urschel and Hadie Young. It grew into a philanthropic group because members found so many reasons for helping young athletes. Now, members take over many projects for youngsters, when their income prevents active participation.

Men of the club back a team on the Hot Stove League, and their team has won several championships.

The Horse club also has an auxiliary. Members of this group extend club welfare activities through help for needy families.

Organized three and a half years ago, the club now has 140 members who meet once a month in the Sons and Daughters of Herman hall.

Present officers are Michael Marvicsin, president; Philip Stirtzinger, first vice president; Gene Hetler, second vice president; Fritz Ickert, third vice president; and Urschel, secretary and treasurer.

Lodge To Hold Dance Tonight

The Mansfield order of the Sons of Italy will hold their annual Columbus Day dance at the Eagles hall at 8 p. m. today.

The evening's program, for members and friends only, will include entertainment as well as dancing. Tom Santoro is general chairman.

The Council-Manager Plan

Future of Council Linked To Charter

(Editor's Note: The following is the fourth in a series of articles to inform Mansfielders about the charter question which will appear on the November ballot.)

By GAYLORD HAKE

If the voters of Mansfield approve the proposal "Shall a Commission Be Chosen to Frame a Charter," the structure of city council will be examined and possibly changed.

The trend in municipal government, after a council-manager system has been adopted, is to streamline the city council.

It will be the duty of the charter commissioners to find out what sort of a council Mansfielders prefer and then make provisions for it in the charter.

At this time Mansfield has nine councilmen and a council president. Six of the councilmen are elected by ward, while three councilmen and the council president are elected at large.

The National Municipal League's 'Model Charter," which has been used as the basis for many city charters, recommends a five-man council elected at large with no party designation, as the most suitable for a community of Mansfield's population.

The contention is that a small council is harmonious and efficient, while a larger body tends to become cumbersome at the conference table.

Those who prefer a large council say that because of its additional members, the group is more representative.

And the question of how the councilmen will be elected must be decided if the voters approve the charter proposal.

Again, the trend of cities who have a council-manager government, is a change from Mansfield's system of electing councilmen by ward.

Proponents of election of councilmen-at-large, with no party designation, say it is a further move to take the operation of the city away from the political interference.

They say a councilman will think about what is good for the community, rather than what is good for the ward or party.

Mansfield's system of electing councilmen and the number of councilmen, is determined by the Ohio Municipal Code under which all Ohio cities operated until the Home Ruel act was approved in 1912. Cities which haven't adopted a charter still operate under the Ohio code.

However, the question of the number, method of electing powers, and salaries of councilmen will be decided by Mansfielders if the charter proposal meets with success at the November election.

5 Groups Endorse Levy

Four Parent-Teacher associations of the city and five other organizations today added their endorsement of the three-mill renewal school levy to the 10 already received at the school administration office, according to campaign officials.

Today's list includes: Brinkerhoff, Bowman, Carpenter and Prospect P-TA's; Mansfield Federation of Teachers, Alfred I. Harrington Post VFW auxiliary, No. 3494 Richland County Medical Society, Round Table club and the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The endorsements were in answer to letters sent out from the campaign publicity committee headed by Ensil McNabb, Johnny Appleseed teacher.

Grotto to Hold Dance Tonight

Baku Grotto will hold the first in its series of fall and winter dances tonight in Grotto hall, Gil R. Creps, chairman of the dance committee, announced today.

Kenny Brague and his orchestra will furnish the music and dancing will be from 9:30 until 12:30.

Monarch Homer Dent stated today that the dance will be open to Grotto members and their friends.

The second dance, on Saturday, Oct. 29, will be a masquerade, Creps announced.

Empire Set To Continue Work

Operations will continue at Empire Steel corporation in Mansfield, without any change, it was announced today by Leonard Hansrote, president of Delano Lodge 169, United Steel Workers, and D. W. Frease, president of the company.

The contract between the company and the union was to expire at midnight tonight but Frease and Hansrote explained that the agreement is being extended pending the outcome of negotiations now in progress.

Details of the negotiations were not revealed by either the company or the union.

In the meantime, there were indications that similar agreements to continue operations were under way at a number of steel fabricating companies in the Mansfield area.

Meets Sunday

The Lamplighters Council for the Blind will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Lemley, 323 South Main street, at 2 p. m. Sunday.

Up and Down the Street . . .

SMALL WORLD—

Four Mansfield couples agree it's a small world. As the Curtis Van Tilburgs and the Walter Reeds were returning Thursday from a motor trip to Houston, Texas, they encountered Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Wentz and Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Baker en route to New Orleans, La., and points of interest in Florida. The chance meeting took place in the lobby of a hotel in Bowling Green, Ky.

'PROP' NEEDED—

Property committee members, working on the Community Players' "Blithe Spirit", are hoping some generous Mansfielder will come to the rescue. An instrumental recording of the song, "Always" is needed in the play. The Players can get records with the lyrics but that's not what they want and they'd have to order the instrumental record and wait for shipment. So if anyone has an instrumental recording of the song and will lend it for the play, E. D. Gibson at 3726-6, would like to hear about it.

Johnson, Truman Huddle

Denfeld Seen On Way Out

WASHINGTON — (INS)— Defense Secretary Johnson prepared today to consult with President Truman on a possible shake-up of the navy's high command.

Johnson was reported ready to ask Mr. Truman to remove Admiral Louis Denfeld as navy chief in order to clear the way for final settlement of the erupting navy-air force feud.

At the same time, the defense boss mapped a "save unification" plea to be presented to Congress.

A defense official said that in his statement to Congress Johnson will concentrate on upholding his billion-dollar economy program and his order cancelling construction of the Navy's super aircraft carrier.

Johnson and the witnesses he has suggested will contend that "military unification is dead" if the Defense department cannot, in consultation with the President, make such major decisions over the heads of objecting services.

DEPENDS ON TRUMAN

Mr. Truman has re-appointed Denfeld for a two-year term beginning Dec. 15. The President alone will decide whether Denfeld's blistering attack Thursday on "improper" and "arbitrary" Pentagon policy warrants withdrawl of the appointment.

Johnson, however, was represented as believing that "Denfeld's usefulness to the navy remains, but his usefulness to the joint chiefs of staff has been impaired."

The House armed services committee next week is expected to hear Johnson and four witnesses he has suggested—Gen. Eisenhower, Gen. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs; Air Force Gen Vandenberg, and Army Gen. J. Lawton Collins.

Hard-Working Mother Gets Timely Aid From De Paul Unit

The Mansfield family had been waging an uphill battle for several years to overcome financial difficulties incurred in raising their five youngsters.

Then a year ago, stepped-up production in the plant where the father worked provided extra earnings through overtime hours, and the parents purchased a small three-room home not nearly large enough for their family's needs, but a home of their own.

Careful planning and resourceful management on the part of the mother paid dividends. Friends helped with donations of clothing which the mother altered and remodeled, working long hours after the rest of the family had retired.

The long hours of work took their toll. The mother's health failed. But there was no money for medical treatment, so she struggled valiantly on.

The case came to the attention of St. Vincent de Paul society, and Mrs. Catherine Dorsey, the agency's investigator, realized that here was a family worthy of assistance.

Both medical and dental care were provided for the mother, and the children were given warm clothing.

Today the family is on its feet again, payments are made regularly on the little house, and the parents and youngsters are looking forward to a day in the not too distant future when they can build an addition to their little home.

The St. Vincent de Paul society, a Red Feather agency of the Community Chest, has given assistance to many Mansfield families which are the victims of circumstances but not eligible for aid from relief agencies.

Eliot Named As Today's Fire 'Demon'

Paul M. Eliot, president of the Farmers Savings and Trust company, crossing Park avenue west on his way from the Tawse Pharmacy to the bank at 9:30 this morning stopped to chat with James Carrigan, with whom he had served on a Richland County draft board.

A few minutes later, Carrigan climbed into his parked car and turned to wave at Eliot when he noticed the bank president was wearing a bright red satin tie.

He looked away, and then as an afterthought, opened the door of his car and called to Eliot, "Say, are you the fire demon today?"

Carrigan now is the owner of a new fire extinguisher, since he correctly identified Eliot as today's fire "demon," marking the close of Mansfield's observance of Fire Prevention weew, during which Mansfield business men wearing bright red ties served as "fire remons."

The fire extinguishers given to citizens correctly identifying the "demon" of the day were provided by Lumbermens Insurance company.

Shelby Takes It on Nose From Ashland

Whippets Beaten By Big A's In 46-To-14 Grid Romp

By JOHN PATRICK

SHELBY—The Ashland A's handed the Shelby Whippets a 46-to-14 trouncing last night to make it five wins in five years.

It was just a good big team against a fighting little team in a game chock full of spectacular runs.

Ashland completely dominated the first quarter bottling up the Shelby offense and tallying in the last few minutes on a five-yard slash off right tackle by McVickers. Boeh kicked the extra point.

On the first play of the second quarter Chuck Knapp tossed a delayed pass from the Shelby 37 over the line of scrimmage to Jim Berry who outraced the Ashland secondary on a beautiful, 63 yard touchdown run along the sidelines. Jack Nothacker kicked the extra point.

The A's drove back to the Shelby 24 after the kick off on some nice running plays by Schaeffer and Howard Fackler before losing the ball on downs. On the third play Clancy Fackler fumbled on the Shelby 30. Howard Fackler and Schaeffer alternated carrying to the 9-yard stripe where Schaeffer smashed through left tackle for the score. Boeh's attempt for the extra point was wide.

Ashland scored again after Knapp's attempted pass on the Shelby 21 which was intercepted by Howard Fackler on the Shelby 22. Glasser carried for three and Schaeffer went around right end to make it first down on the Shelby 22. Glasser then faded around the left end and tossed a 25-yard pass to Russell in the end zone. Boeh attempted kick was blocked and Ashland led 19 to 7 as the half ended.

Early in the second half Jim Berry broke loose around the left end on a brilliant 57-yard run to tally standing up. Nothacker kick made the acore Ashland 19, Shelby 14.

GOES FOR 55

Nothacker kicked off and Howard Fackler carried from the Ashland 16 to the 44 in three plays. Schaeffer then fought his way through right tackle for 55 yards and another score. Boeh's placement made it 26 to 14.

Berry carried Boeh's kick back for 32 yards. Then with Dinty Moore, Fackler and Berry carrying the Whippets drove to the Ashland 16 only to lose the ball on an intercepted pass on the Ashland nine.

The A's pounded up the field through a tired but game Whippet team to score again on Fackler's two yard plunge through right tackle.

On the first play after the kickoff Moore fumbled the ball on the Shelby 14. Glasser made a first down on the four. Fackler gained one and then Siler crashed for 3 yards to score.

Shelby again fumbled on a handoff by Knapp to Berry on the Shelby 17. Fackler circled the left end for 17 yards to register the final touchdown. Boeh's kick made it Ashland 46 Shelby 14.

Cyclone Tangles With 'Gentleman' In Title Match

There's sure to be plenty of mat fireworks at the Armory on Ashland road tonight when Promoter Clete Kauffman presents a wrestling twin bill.

The headline attraction pits Cyclone Anaya, junior heavyweight champion, against Gentleman Freddie Bozic, the villainous Clevelander. Bozic has a big "hate" following in the Mansfield area as one of the roughest performers in the business. Anaya is fast and clever.

In the other one-hour bout, Lord Blears, the British Empire champ, tangles with Dr. Ed Meske. Blears is the ruffian in this encounter.

The 30-minute preliminary tussle features Billy Weidner against Farmer Tommy Martin. Weidner is a former junior heavy titleholder.

Tygers End Jet Streak

32 and Ralph Moon picked up two yards on a plunge. Then George Blanchfield, a pretty good passer, passed to Bill Lindsay down the middle and the big Jet flanker simply outlegged the Bengal secondary for 66 yards and a TD. It was the first pass either team attempted.

Leading only 14 to 6 at the half, Mansfield scored twice in each of the last two periods to win going away. Subs dotted the field for the final score.

Three new names were added to the Tyger scoring column last night. Don Cline scored from the one on a sneak, Esker Jordan bucked from the one and Clarence Bailey raced eight yards for the final tally.

17 FIRST DOWNS

Mansfield's rugged defensive line yielded only 80 yards as the Tygers outgained the visitors 477 yards to 203. In the first down department, the Bengals had 17 to nine.

Cline's aerial work was again outstanding. The Tyger game captain tossed 14 aerials and completed eight. Five of the passes were flagged by Ed Demyan. The ninth Tyger pass completion was a 16-yarder from Don Pesano to Johnny Fowler. Both youngsters were playing in their first varsity game.

Only nine scrimmage plays were needed for the Tygers to get their opening touchdown on a drive of 75 yards. Jenkins, Tucker and Jordan alternated in lugging the ball to the one and Cline counted on a sneak.

The second came on eight plays in a surge of 71 yards. Bricker, Jenkins and Tucker were the big guns in the push with Tucker going off guard for the score from the two.

Less than 60 seconds after the second half kickoff, Mansfield had its third score. Jordan returned the kick seven yards to the 27 and Bricker squirted off tackle for 43 to the 30. Jordan plunged for two and Tucker went off tackle on the following play to score. The little speedster played his interference beautifully and cut back at the right moment to leave the Euclid backs gasping.

INTERCEPTS PASS

Two minutes later Bob Ward intercepted a Blanchfield pass and ran 36 yards to the Euclid 29. In five plays, Jordan went over from the one. That made the score 28-6.

Another interception, this time by Tucker, gave Mansfield the ball on the Jets' 44. Cline pitched to Demyan for six yards and Tucker scored on another sweet cutback from the 38.

Walter Maurer fell on a Euclid fumble on the Mansfield 38 to touch off the final TD drive. The two key plays were a 16-yard pass to Demyan and a 24 sprint by Bailey. The 24 yarder moved the ball to the 12 but Mansfield was penalized five yards. Bill Stutz powered nine yards and Bailey sliced over from the eight.

Howie Tipper split the uprights six straight times. The veteran Tyger guard now has counted on 16 of 20 extra point tries from placement.

3—In Memoriam

IN MEMORY of our dear mother, Mrs. Emma Witzke Miller, who passed away very suddenly October 15, 1947. Sadly missed by Mr. and Mrs. Willis Witzke and family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Motter and family, relatives and friends.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Charity Ann Allen who passed away October 15, 1947.
O blessed little sunbeam,
O child of love and prayer,
We give thee to the keeping
Of the tender Shepherd's care.
No stain was on her little heart,
Sin had not entered there;
And innocence saved sweetly on
That pale white brow so fair.
She was too pure for this cold earth.
Too beautiful to stay,
And so God's holy angel bore
Our darling one away.
Missed by Daddy, Mommy, Sister, grandparents, nieces and aunts.

Wild Last Quarter Sends Madison to Defeat

from the tyger lair

By EL TIGRE

A small Mansfield team looked big against a bigger Euclid team last night, and if you think that's confusing you should have seen the Euclid backfield when "Eely" Tucker slid past it! Those guys were REALLY confused!

★

Jets were beaten.
Sure were vexed.
Gangway, Massillon,
You come next!

★

Our nomination for fastest thing on the field: Mickey, a little black and white pooch who got a terrific workout chasing players before the game started. The Euclid Jets got their workout AFTER the game started, chasing Bricker and Tucker, the Torrid Tyger Twins.

★

The Tyger backfield looked classy in rolling up that 42-6 score, but the linemen showed more progress than at any time this season. The boys were driving in there hard and more than once left Jets strewn all over the field. The Tygers were in excellent shape and injuries were few.

★

Euclid unveiled one secret weapon, however. The first pass they tried went for their only touchdown. And what a pass!

★

At one time it looked as though there were more players on the field than spectators in the stands. Euclid lost 15 yards on that one — 12 men on the field.

★

Pre-game predictions:

Fred Tharp — "Mansfield, 34 to 7."

Paul Snyder — "Mansfield by 30 points."

El Tigre — "Mansfield, 28 to 12."

Ya-a-a, we told you so!

★

El Tigre struggled as far as the dressing room door after the game for some comment from Coach Augie Morningstar. The only person he could reach was a guard at the door who said, Nobody — absolutely NO-O body —goes through that door."

And that ends post-game comment from the dressing room as far as El Tigre is concerned. Twice is enough.

★

Euclid had a classy set of cheerleaders, ten of them, to be exact. The gals had rhythm and were undoubtedly the best set of visiting cheerleaders to hit Arlin field this year.

"A well put together group," one fan commented.

Those white stripes on the game ball didn't go over too well with the Jet coach. He demanded — and got — a plain brown ball as soon as the Tygers ripped off their first touchdown.

The officials weren't so far behind on that move. They warned Mansfield before the game to have a plain ball handy.

★

The Tygers wasted no time in getting off to a flying second half. Just one minute and 20 seconds were required to rack up a touchdown. Then it took El Tigre seven minutes to recover. By that time the local lads had scored again. They kept El Tigre in the hole all night.

That was O. K., though, that's where they kept Euclid, too!

★

Incidentally, El Tigre has the inside dope from the Massillon dressing room that the Tygers are worried about the Tygers.

Massillon 11 Romps Over Fifth Foe

(By International News Service)

Martins Ferry and Wooster reeled groggily today, their dreams of the mythical 1949 Ohio High School championship all but shattered.

Both took it on the chin last night, Martins Ferry falling, 7-6, before Triadelphia, and Wooster managing to salvage only a 7-7 tie with Canton Central Catholic.

For the Ferrians, the defeat was the first since 1947. They went through 10 games last year and four this year without a setback before Triadelphia came along.

Wooster's Generals had also taken four straight.

Canton McKinley and Toledo Libbey were a couple of other schools that got scares, but managed to come through.

The McKinley Bulldogs, rated second only to powerful Massillon throughout the state, eked out a 7-0 victory over once-beaten Toledo Waite.

Toledo Libbey, conqueror of Waite last week by a 3-0 count, outscored Barberton, 27-19.

Findlay, surprise victor over Fremont Ross last Friday, also had trouble in its encounter with Lima Central, but slipped by, 26-14.

Elsewhere on the high school front, things went more as expected with Massillon, Lakewood, Mansfield and Springfield showing the way.

AVENGES DEFEAT

Massillon avenged the only defeat on its 1948 schedule by overwhelming Alliance, 48-14.

Lakewood battered Cleveland Shaw, 35-13; Mansfield crushed Euclid, 42-6, and Springfield overpowered Toledo Central Catholic, 28-14.

In other top games of the week Circleville thumped New Boston 44 - 13; Fremont Ross rebounded to smash Sandusky, 47-7; Bedford dumped Garfield Heights 7-6; Willard smacked Upper Sandusky, 34-12; Norwalk bettered Bellevue, 13-12; Portsmouth edged Chillicothe, 19-13; East Liverpool crushed Canton Lehman, 32-14, and Niles thumped Euclid Brush, 26-0.

★

Sandy Hill, Circleville's 165 - pound speedster, had "rough" going last night.

The fleet halfback carried the ball 10 time in Circleville's 44-13 romp over New Boston and could score but four times. In Circleville's four previous contests he had averaged five TD's a game.

However, he made up for his running deficiency, if it could be called that, by passing for two more scores and booting a pair of extra points from placement.

Averaging 20 yards per carry last night, he raised his season's total gain to 1247 yards.

Akron South Team Puts Senior High Off Unbeaten List

The Akron South Cavaliers continued their mastery over Senior high school sport teams yesterday by tumbling the Tyger harriers to their first defeat of the season, 27 to 28.

The defeat also ended a four-year home course winning streak Senior high had copped four straight meets this year. Akron previously had beaten the football Tygers in their first game of the year.

Bob Ray toured the rolling two-mile Coolridge course in the fast time of 10:16 to easily outdistance Jim Hager, the Mansfield ace. Jerry Gerrell and Gus Maskey trailed Hager but Akron grabbed the next four places to clinch the result:

'Ez' Charles Kayoes Pat Valentino In 'Title' Bout

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Ezzard Charles was rewarded today with a check for $58,624—largest purse of his career—for defending his NBA heavyweight title the second time with an eighth-round knockout over Pat Valentino, California's long-haired "nature boy."

Brown-skinned Charles of Cincinnati knocked out the San Francisco challenger last night with a smashing right hook to the chin at 35 seconds of the eighth round before a record breaking San Francisco crowd of 19,591 at the Cow palace.

Because the gross gate for their excellent fight was $167,870, Charles' 35 percent of the net exceeded his guarantee of $50,000 by $8,624.

And the fans got their money's worth at the first heavyweight title fight staged in northern California in 40 years. Although both fighters were regarded previously as somewhat dull performers, and although Valentino had gone into the ring a 1-5 underdog, they staged one of the most thrilling brawls witnessed in San Francisco in years.

Valentino, 29, made the most of his weight advantage — 188½ pounds to Charles' 182 — and forced the fighting in every round. He barraged the taller and younger champion with hooks to the body and swung wildly at his head. Valentino's courageous attack and Charles' superb counter-fighting pulled the roaring crowd to its feet again and again.

At the end of the seventh round, referee Jack Downey and Judge Frankie Carter had Valentino ahead on points. Each scored 39 points for challenger Pat and 38 for Ezzard. However, Judge Frank Manfrido favored Charles 39-½ to 37-½. The point system is used in California; not the round-by-round.

On a round-by-round basis, the United Press sheet gave Valentino three rounds, Charles two, and called two even.

NO KNOCKDOWNS

There were no knockdowns despite the toe-to-toe slugging in nearly every session. Valentino was knocked back on his heels three times, and Charles was almost jacknifed by a wild right hook to the stomach in the sixth round.

Valentino appeared likely to give Ezzard a hard fight for the scheduled 15 rounds, when Charles suddenly nailed him on the chin in the eighth. Pat hurtled backwards to the canvas as if hit by a bullet, but he quickly rose to one knee. He tried to regain his feet at the count of nine, but instead fell forward on his face.

Promoter William P. Kyne was elated by the excellent fight, and by the large crowd and gate. He said the Livermore veterans hospital would receive more than $40,000 from the proceeds.

Bucyrus Club Upsets Galion In Loop Game

BUCYRUS — An underdog Bucyrus 11 dropped Galion's Tigers by a 19-0 verdict here last night to notch its first Northern Ohio league victory.

The Redmen scored on two short runs and a pass, drawing first blood early in the second quarter. Herb Jones, fullback, smashed over from the Galion three for the initial TD. Jerry Ball passed to Ken Kinn, left end, in the end zone for the extra point.

Carl Griffith, Bucyrus guard, intercepted a Galion pass on the Tigers' nine-yard line to set up the second tally, with Norm Smith chucking a short pass to Kimm in the end zone, after a plunge carried the ball to the three. There were only two minutes left in the first half when Griffith snagged the pass.

Jerry Ball, left half, notched the final score late in the third quarter when a 15-yard penalty for rough play set the ball on the Galion two. Ball bulled his way across on the next play.

Galion tried an aerial game, but the Redmen smothered the passing attack throughout the game. Galion completed only one pass, that one for a comparatively short gain.

Minnesota Choice Over Ohio State

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Big Minnesota and fast Ohio State clash today on the Ohio stadium gridiron in a game which may go far toward deciding the big ten's Rose Bowl representative. A crowd of 80,000 was expected.

As game time approached, Minnesota — with one of the heaviest lines in college football — held a slight edge in the odds. But Ohio was counting on sprint speed in its backfield to tip the balance in its favor.

New York 9's Top Baseball Trade Marts

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK — (AP) — The world series may be over, but baseball refuses to be crowded out of the sports pages.

For the second straight day, all three New York clubs put over deals in strengthening for next season.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, as has been their custom, were the most opulent dealers, bringing up three promising minor league farmhands to replace Marv Rackley and Dick Whitman, a couple of expendable outfielders sold to rival national league clubs.

Dodger boss Branch Rickey, who two days ago pocketed a reported $100,000 from the Chicago Cubs for pitcher Paul Minner and first baseman Preston Ward, sold Rackley to Cincinnati for about $50,000 and Whitman to the Philadelphia Phils for $25,000.

In unloading these second line performers, Rickey was in position to bring up catcher Steve Lembo and second basemen Everett (Rocky Bridges from Montreal, and first baseman Dee Fondy from Mobile. All are considered fine prospects.

The New York Yankees brought up Paul Hinrichs, a righthanded bonus pitcher from Kansas City, at the same time sending relief pitcher Ralph Buxton down to their American association farm club and releasing veteran Hugh Casey.

The new York Giants purchased Louis Sleater, a left-handed bonus pitcher from Jacksonville of the South Atlantic league.

In getting Rackley, the Reds acquired a .303 hitter, but the fleet-footed flychaser played in only 74 games. Whitman saw even less service, hitting only .184 in 23 games. Rackley is 28 and Whitman will be 29 next month.

Kid Gavilan Punches Out Win Over Jack

CHICAGO — (AP) — Making his first start since he was knifed in a Harlem street scrape, Cuba's Kid Gavilan slammed a 10-round unanimous decision over Beau Jack in Chicago Stadium last night.

Charlie Cotton, Toledo, O., 151, stopped Shamus McCrea, Los Angeles, Cal., 151 in the second round.

Loudonville Wins Fifth Straight, 27-6

By CHARLEY STINE

LOUDONVILLE—Stymied by a fighting but inexperienced Mansfield Madison football team for more than three quarters, undefeated Loudonville exploded in the late stages to defeat the Rams, 27 to 6, here last night.

It was the fifth straight victory for Loudonville and the fifth loss for Madison.

For three quarters the underdog Rams threatened to snap the Red Buds winning streak as they battled them to a 0-0 stalemate. Madison trailed by only 7-6 with five minutes to go and by only 14-6 with two minutes left to play. Two last-minute scores set up on a fumble and an intercepted pass made the final score entirely different from the true story of the game.

Up until then it had been a see-saw battle between Loudonville's Bill Foster and Madison's Pedro Pryor, both of whom got off to some brilliant pieces of broken field running. One 20-yard jaunt by Pryor in the third period was the best bit of running Madison has had all year.

Neither team made a serious threat during the entire first half as Loudonville, which had punted only once in four previous games, was forced to kick three times. Things began to happen fast in the third quarter, however as Loudonville took the opening kickoff down to the Madison seven-yard line before Gray fumbled and Lloyd Rissler recovered for the Rams on the ten.

The ball exchanged hands three more times before Loudonville got its first touchdown drive started late in the period. Putting the ball into play on its own 29 after taking a punt, the Red Birds drove to paydirt in eight plays, the last two coming in the fourth quarter. A 40-yard off-tackle run by Jack Porter set up the score and Foster carried over from the ten.

After Carl Young converted to give Loudonville a 7-0 lead, Madison took the kickoff and pounded back on an 88-yard drive of its own.

However a fumble gave Loudonville the ball on the two. The Birds drove to the 11 and then handed the ball back on another fumble.

MADISON SCORES

Madison was not to be denied this time and Ray Enderle to Russ Glenn pass moved the ball up to the one-yard line from where Chet Sprague drove over in two plays. Five minutes remained on the clock as Young, who had converted Loudonville's extra point, broke through to break up Bill Remy's try for the point.

By this time Madison's lack of replacements on an injury-riddled squad began to show up. Loudonville returned the kickoff for a touchdown in eight plays and took a 14-6 lead.

Two minutes remained on the clock when Pedro Pryor ran the kickoff back to the Madison 40 and then fumbled, Loudonville recovering. Fullback Jack Augenstein drove to the 32, bucked to the 30 and then caught a pass from Foster and raced the distance around right end for the score with about 45 seconds left.

The final score came on Madison's first play from scrimmage when Enderle's pass was intercepted by Young on the Madison 40 and carried over, 6 pt.

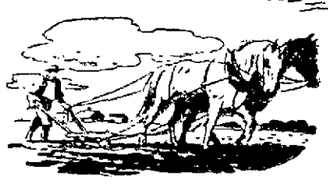
1859 —The news of America's first oil well was barely mentioned in the press. Much more interest was aroused by the coal burning steamship "Great Eastern" —the biggest and most powerful ship afloat. In 1860 she made the Atlantic crossing in 11½ days.

TODAY, modern oil burning liners make the Atlantic trip in 4½ days and maintain fast, regular schedules to every part of the world. Oil is now the fuel for three quarters of the world's shipping.



1859 — The farmer was tied to his soil from sun up to sun down. Even with these hours of labor the average farmer raised only enough to feed himself and four other persons. Town was a long, jolting wagon trip away. Most shopping was done at a crossroads general store.

TODAY, the farmer can count on petroleum to do most of the hard work on his highly-mechanized farm. It drives and lubricates his tractors, trucks and autos . . . fertilizes his land, kills weeds and insect pests. As a result, one farmer can support himself and fourteen other people.

Irish-Tulane Top Grid Program

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK — (AP) — This will be one of the top football games in the country, but most of the attention will be focused on the battle of the Behemoths — Notre Dame and Tulane.

The Irish, tied only twice in their past 31 games, will rule the favorite when they step onto the turf at South Bend, Ind. Tulane has captured 12 straight since losing its first game of the 1948 season.

Notre Dame and Tulane are among the 18 major teams which boast perfect records.

The big ten has a good program featured by the clash between Minnesota and Ohio State. The chances are that the victor in this one will come out on top in the conference.

Michigan, upset victim of Army last week, will be out to reinstate itself at the top of the heap at the expense of Northwestern. Indiana takes on Iowa in another big ten encounter.

Little Dub Graves, a farmer from Fort Worth, Tex., was the big man in Tulsa's upset triumph over Villanova at Philadelphia.

Graves scored once and helped set up underdog Tulsa's winning touchdown in the third period with an electrifying run after taking a lateral on the 42 from Paul Barry. Graves scampered to the seven before he was brought down.

Barry sprinted around end on the next play and scored his second and the winning touchdown of the game. Tulsa entered the contest with a 1-3 record. Villanova had scored four victories before it by the last game.

Penn's Red Raiders erupted and scored their first triumph of the season, beating Miami, 14-0, before a record regular season crowd of 47,345 fans in the Orange Bowl stadium.

Favored Mississippi had to roll for three fourth period touchdowns and then fight off a terrific last minute counter bid to gain a 25-25 tie with the Boston College Eagles. Fordham scored on Ole Miss 9 and tied with the Eagles in the [illegible].

In other games Temple scored two touchdowns and an extra point in the final quarter to nip Bucknell, 20-19. Frank Mattingly piloted Georgetown University of Washington to a 21-6 victory over New York University. Georgia beat Louisiana state, 7 - 0, and Boston University overwhelmed West Virginia, 52-20.

Church Women to Observe World Community Day Nov. 4

Plan Help For Families Overseas

Send Materials To Europe, Asia

BY EILEEN DEWHURST

Mansfield church women will join with church women all over the United States in observing World Community Day, Nov. 4.

Plans for Mansfield's participation in the observance were announced today by Mrs. Clair Kirchhofer, president of the Council of Church Women here.

This year's project will be known as "pieces for peace." Mansfield women will be asked to gather pieces of new material to be sent to women in Europe and Asia so they can make clothing for themselves and their families.

Goods of any kind can be used by these women overseas, but yard goods of cotton, woolen or prints are the most needed.

Yarn, floss, crochet cotton and trimmings also can be used. Curtain material and pieces for patchwork quilts will be acceptable also.

Women have been asked to include as many needles, thread, tapes and other sewing tools as possible since these items are very scarce overseas.

Mansfield women will observe World Community Day at a special dedication service at the First Christian church at 2 p. m. Nov. 4. All bundles should be brought to this service.

Materials should be placed on a piece of light cardboard 15 by 24 inches in size and the bundle wrapped in a yard and a half of blue denim, which can be used for patching overalls.

"Peace is possible" has been selected as the theme of this day which will be observed by church women throughout the United States. The observance is a cooperative movement sponsored by the United Council of Church Women working with Church World Service.

World Community Day will be dedicated to peace through a world community.

Mrs. Kirchhofer is heading the Mansfield project committee.

Other members include Mrs. W. M. Taylor, Park Avenue Baptist church; Miss Josephine Doolittle, Grace Episcopal; Mrs. Grace Downs, St. Mark's Lutheran; Mrs. V. C. Stamets, First Evangelical United Brethren; Mrs. S. B. Beauford, Mt. Calvary; Mrs. John Davis, Mitchell Chapel; Mrs. Clarence Lisle, First Methodist; Mrs. Matthew G. God Rebukes the Nations — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — By Alfred J. Buescher

Scriptures—Isaiah 1:21-28; 10: 13; 19:19-25; 31.

The princes of the city of Jerusalem are rebellious, the Lord told Isaiah, and companions of thieves every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards.

I will restore thy judges and thy counsellors as at the beginning, afterward thou shalt be called the city of righteousness, a faithful town.

Jehovah shall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know Jehovah in that day, and shall vow a vow unto Jehovah, and shall perform it.

In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, and a blessing in the midst of the earth.

This is a project of Garden Club of Ohio, Inc., in cooperation with the State Highway department, and marks a milestone in completion of Ohio's part of this highway.

The Blue Star Memorial Highway is a plan of the National Council of State Garden Clubs to create a living tribute to the men and women of the nation who served in the armed forces of World War II, by plantings and other improvements along a series of connecting routes across the country.

From the giant redwoods in a forest on the West Coast to the lilacs of the coast of Maine, blossoms of every season will brighten the highway system, backed by the trees typical of each section through which the route cuts. Over 16,000 miles have been memorialized and it is the intention of this group that these shall eventually be the most beautiful miles in the United States. 6100 communities are now represented in the membership of the National Council whose total membership is over 200,000. Members of Garden Club of Ohio automatically become members of the National Council of State Garden Clubs.

Plans for the dedication service are as follows: Music by a military band with a color guard from Fort Hayes. The Invocation will be given by Chaplain Edgar R. Cockran.

This will be followed by an address by Governor Frank J. Lausche. Three members of the State Highway Department — T. J. Kauer, Director, Wilbur Garmhausen and Dallas Dupre — will make a few remarks on this historic occasion. The marker will be unveiled by Mrs. Fred G. Hodell of Gates Mills, Ohio, Chairman of the Blue Star Highway. Planting of the tree will be done by Mr. Kauer, State Highway Director. The Benediction will be pronounced by Chaplain Cockran; and ceremonies will close with playing of "America the Beautiful" by the Military Band.

Members and friends of Garden Club of Ohio will then go to the Hotel Seneca in Columbus for a 12:30 luncheon. An afternoon program featuring Mrs. R. J. Schulke of Cleveland in a demonstrated lecture on "Flower Arrangement" completes the day's program.

The exact location of the dedication is west of Columbus where U. S. Route 40 crosses Big Darby Creek, 2½ miles east of West Jefferson.

For the Football Crowd After Game

The football crowd will be hungry.

To make a "touchdown" with a gay-at-heart crowd after cheer-yelling at the stadium, an invitation to an after-game buffet supper is just the thing And here is a menu, developed by home economists for your party: Touchdown Meat Loaf, Hot Creamed Potatoes, Mixed Vegetable Slaw, Bread Confections Rolls and Butter, and Instant Coffee.

It's a simple but hearty menu. Practically everything can be made or at least started before the crowd leaves for the stadium. Then after the game while the crowd is in the living room enjoying after-the-game chatter, the rest of the preparations can easily be completed.

To make the meat loaf look like a football, bake it in a bomb mold. Use strips of cheese for the lacing and finely shredded cheese mounded on water cress makes gay chrysanthemums. This meat loaf, a combination of mince meat and shredded cheese with ground beef, has good cutting qualities, delicious flavor and in addition is chock full of nourishment. If you never thought of mince meat except as a pie filling, this meat loaf will show you that it is also excellent for many other taste treats.

The dessert on this menu, Bread Confections, is made from one of the well-known and so very easy-to-do recipes calling for sweetened condensed milk. The full recipe follows:

TOUCHDOWN MEAT LOAF
(Makes 8 servings)

1 package (9 oz.) Mince Meat
½ cup water
1 pound ground beef
1 package (½ lb.) Cheese, shredded
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1/3 cup water

Break mince meat into small pieces and put into small saucepan. Add the ½ cup water. Place over low heat and stir until lumps are thoroughly broken. Increase heat and boil mince meat briskly for 3 minutes or until almost dry, stirring often. Cool. Combine mince meat, ground beef and cheese. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Put mixture into a well-greased 'bomb mold. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until firm and brown, about 1 hour. Turn out on platter. If desired, put strips of cheese on top of loaf to look like lacings of a football and garnish with finely shredded cheese mounded on water cress to look like chrysanthemums.

• • •

HOT CREAMED POTATOES
(Makes 6 servings)

6 medium-size potatoes
2 cups Sour Cream
3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
Salt
Pepper

Boil potatoes in their jackets until tender. Cool. Remove jackets and cut potatoes into pieces. Put sour cream in skillet; add potatoes. Heat slowly until sour cream bubbles over the potatoes. Add onion. When the potatoes are thoroughly heated, season with salt and pepper. Serve at once. Garnish with paprika or parsley.

• • •

BREAD CONFECTIONS
(Makes 21)

1 can (15 oz.) Sweetened Condensed Milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups dry, shredded coconut
Orange food coloring
1 loaf day-old bread, thinly sliced
Orange marmalade

Combine sweetened condensed milk and vanilla in a small bowl. Put coconut into a jar, add a drop or two of orange food coloring, being careful not to add too much; cover jar and shake until coconut is evenly colored; put into small bowl and break coconut fine. Cut two 2-inch rounds from each slice of bread. Spread half the rounds with sweetened condensed milk mixture; then spread with marmalade. Top each spread round with a plain bread round. Dip one flat surface and sides of each sandwich in sweetened condensed milk mixture; drain; dip in colored coconut. Put on ungreased cookie sheet, plain surface down. Continue until all circles are coated. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes; do not let coconut brown. Remove at once from cookie sheet. Cool.

Check Your Popularity

TRY to make a deposit in your popularity bank every day. You'll be sure to be the belle of the school year.

You don't become popular by wearing the most expensive clothes or by being the prettiest girl in the class or by dating the handsomest man. Popular girls always lead selfless lives. In lending a helping hand to less resourceful classmates, they build up a great store of friends and their stock goes up on the popularity chart.

What do they get out of it? Most of them find that the inner satisfaction of helping someone and winning friends is by far their biggest reward. Further, they find their own problems seem to melt away. Here are ways you can become popular by the unselfish route:

Be kind. Never hold up a girl to ridicule because she has a small wardrobe and smaller bank account or because her parents do not measure up to yours. She deserves the same chance as the wealthiest and most well-bred girl in school.

Be charitable. Don't engage in gossip about any of your school chums. Try to look behind the flaws to see the good. And don't try to use the "analytical" excuse. This is when Mary says of her best chum Betty, "I'm so crazy about Betty but I wish she wouldn't be such a drip on a party." If Mary is crazy about Betty, she doesn't point up her flaws to anyone else.

Be reasonable. Don't always be ready with the harsh retort. If someone gives you constructive criticism, accept it in the right spirit.

Be sweet. You will always get more with sugar than with vinegar. If someone is jealous of you and shows it, feel sorry for them. You always can win out by ignoring their attitude and being agreeable. This will serve to embarrass them into shelving their hate campaign or it will at least keep others off their band wagon.

Be helpful. The Lord didn't give everybody a beautiful brain. Share yours with somebody else. You may save a dumb girl many unhappy moments by ironing out school problems which she cannot grasp in the classroom. If you are smarter than she, how can she ever be serious competition to you, anyway?

Be loyal. If a chum makes a mistake, stick by her. Don't let her down because the school pack has turned up its noses. That is the time when she needs your friendship more than ever.

Be generous. Penny-pinching, budget-minded people always look and act the part. You don't have to give away your last sou. But by sharing with others less fortunate than yourself you are buying happiness, something your miserly school friends can never purchase with their stuffed piggy-banks.

Be courageous. When you are right stick by your guns. Don't back down when the going looks tough. And, always be willing to admit it when you are wrong.

HOROSCOPE

For Sunday, October 16
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

IT may be difficult to make much headway under existing planetary auspices, so it might as well be set aside as a day of diversion and relaxation. It may be well to shun extravagance in expenditures on these since there are signs of loss, excesses, overdoing and other hazards to health, valuables and prestige in business as well as private life. Rest may sidestep this.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves disposed to take long chances, to plunge, gamble or otherwise jeopardize their possessions, valuables and peace of mind, at home and in business relations.

A child born on this day may have extravagant notions, and a disposition to step outside bounds of economy and good sense thereby forfeiting progress, pleasant relations and aid from high places.

Dance To Be Sponsored By Sorority

A public street dance on Saturday evening, Oct 29, following the Halloween parade, will be sponsored by members of the Epsilon Tau chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority. The round and square dancing will be held at the A. B. Grafton lot on Park avenue west.

The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Miss Mary Denig, tickets; Mrs. Manning Perkins and Mrs. Carl Laubscher, orchestra; decorations, Miss Alice Karsmizski and Miss Miriam Hardin; publicity, Miss Paula Brunk and Miss Lois Uhrich; refreshments, Mrs. Doris Massa; clean-up, Mrs. Frank Hoffer

The members met this week at the club rooms for a cultural program in charge of Miss Hardin. Mrs Raymond Phipps read several well known poems, "Patriotism" by Scott, "Crossing the Bar" by Tennyson, "Annabel Lee" by Poe and "Little Boy Blue" by Fields.

Miss Hardin defined poetry and gave an interesting talk on the subject. Plans were made during the business session to hold meetings on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. The next regular meeting is scheduled for Oct. 27. The announcement of the Ritual of Jewels will be made at a later date.

E. L. K. Sewing Circle Convenes

The first meeting of the year for members of the E. L. K. Sewing Circle was held this week at the Women's Club with Mrs. F. J. Schuster as hostess. Sixteen members and one guest, Mrs Gilbert, were present. Lucheon was served at noon.

During the afternoon the group completed 26 pieces of sewing for the Mansfield General Hospital. The next meeting will be held at the Women's Club with Mrs. Harry Soulen as hostess on Oct. 26.

Try this for a good-tasting salad. Arrange drained canned cling peach halves in lettuce cups and fill with finely shredded cabbage and chopped green pepper that has been mixed with mayonnaise. A bit of grated lemon rind in the dressing adds another very delicious accent.

There's a new coffee product on the market which is based on the tea bail principle. Each bag contains a condensed and concentrated blend of both soluble and roasted granular coffee. They come packaged in a vacuum can with 18 bags to the can.

Church Women to Observe World Community Day Nov. 4

Plan Help For Families Overseas

Send Materials To Europe, Asia

BY EILEEN DEWHURST

Mansfield church women will join with church women all over the United States in observing World Community Day, Nov. 4.

Plans for Mansfield's participation in the observance were announced today by Mrs. Clair Kirchhofer, president of the Council of Church Women here.

This year's project will be known as "pieces for peace." Mansfield women will be asked to gather pieces of new material to be sent to women in Europe and Asia so they can make clothing for themselves and their families.

Goods of any kind can be used by these women overseas, but yard goods of cotton, woolen or prints are the most needed.

Yarn, floss, crochet cotton and trimmings also can be used. Curtain material and pieces for patchwork quilts will be acceptable also.

Women have been asked to include as many needles, thread, tapes and other sewing tools as possible since these items are very scarce overseas.

Mansfield women will observe World Community Day at a special dedication service at the First Christian church at 2 p. m. Nov. 4. All bundles should be brought to this service.

Materials should be placed on a piece of light cardboard 15 by 24 inches in size and the bundle wrapped in a yard and a half of blue denim, which can be used for patching overalls.

"Peace is possible" has been selected as the theme of this day which will be observed by church women throughout the United States. The observance is a cooperative movement sponsored by the United Council of Church Women working with Church World Service.

World Community Day will be dedicated to peace through a world communiy.

Scriptures—Isaiah 1:21-28; 10; 13; 19:19-25; 31.

The princes of the city of Jerusalem are rebellious, the Lord told Isaiah, and companions of thieves every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards.

I will restore thy judges and thy counsellors as at the beginning, afterward thou shalt be called the city of righteousness, a faithful town.

Jehovah shall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know Jehovah in that day, and shall vow a vow unto Jehovah, and shall perform it.

In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, and a blessing in the midst of the earth.

MRS. HARRY CONSTANCE TO ATTEND DEDICATION

State President of Blue Star Mothers and Mrs. Mehl, Garden Club of Ohio Head, To Speak

Mrs. Harry S. Constance, Lenox avenue, state president of the Blue Star Mothers, will be a guest of honor at the dedication of the Blue Star Memorial Highway, west of Columbus, on Tuesday morning at 10:30 a. m. Governor Frank J. Lausche will deliver the principal address. Mrs. Robert T. Mehl of Ashland, president of the Garden Club of Ohio, will explain the purpose of the memorial.

This is a project of Garden Club of Ohio, Inc., in cooperation with the State Highway department, and marks a milestone in completion of Ohio's part of this highway.

The Blue Star Memorial Highway is a plan of the National Council of State Garden Clubs to create a living tribute to the men and women of the nation who served in the armed forces of World War II, by plantings and other improvements along a series of connecting routes across the country.

From the giant redwoods in a forest on the West Coast to the lilacs of the coast of Maine, blossoms of every season will brighten the highway system, backed by the trees typical of each section through which the route cuts. Over 16,000 miles have been memorialized and it is the intention of this group that these shall eventually be the most beautiful miles in the United States. 6100 communities are now represented in the membership of the National Council whose total membership is over 200,000. Members of Garden Club of Ohio automatically become members of the National Council of State Garden Clubs.

Plans for the dedication service are as follows: Music by a military band with a color guard from Fort Hayes. The Invocation will be given by Chaplain Edgar R. Cockran.

This will be followed by an address by Governor Frank J. Lausche. Three members of the State Highway Department — T. J. Kauer, Director, Wilbur Garmhausen and Dallas Dupre — will make a few remarks on this historic occasion. The marker will be unveiled by Mrs. Fred G. Hodell of Gates Mills, Ohio, Chairman of the Blue Star Highway. Planting of the tree will be done by Mr. Kauer, State Highway Director. The Benediction will be pronounced by Chaplain Cockran; and ceremonies will close with playing of "America the Beautiful" by the Military Band.

Members and friends of Garden Club of Ohio will then go to the Hotel Seneca in Columbus for a 12:30 luncheon. An afternoon program featuring Mrs. R. J. Schulke of Cleveland in a demonstrated lecture on "Flower Arrangement" completes the day's program.

The exact location of the dedication is west of Columbus where U. S. Route 40 crosses Big Darby Creek, 2½ miles east of West Jefferson.

For the Football Crowd After Game

The football crowd will be hungry.

To make a "touchdown" with a gay-at-heart crowd after cheer-yelling at the stadium, an invitation to an after-game buffet supper is just the thing. And here is a menu, developed by home economists for your party: Touchdown Meat Loaf, Hot Creamed Potatoes, Mixed Vegetable Slaw, Bread Confections, Rolls and Butter, and Instant Coffee.

It's a simple but hearty menu. Practically everything can be made or at least started before the crowd leaves for the stadium. Then after the game while the crowd is in the living room enjoying after-the-game chatter, the rest of the preparations can easily be completed.

To make the meat loaf look like a football, bake it in a bomb mold. Use strips of cheese for the lacing and finely shredded cheese mounded on water cress makes gay chrysanthemums. This meat loaf, a combination of mince meat and shredded cheese with ground beef, has good cutting qualities, delicious flavor and in addition is chock full of nourishment. If you never thought of mince meat except as a pie filling, this meat loaf will show you that it is also excellent for many other taste treats.

The dessert on this menu, Bread Confections, is made from one of the well-known and so very easy-to-do recipes calling for sweetened condensed milk. The full recipe follows:

TOUCHDOWN MEAT LOAF
(Makes 8 servings)

1 package (9 oz.) Mince Meat
½ cup water
1 pound ground beef
1 package (½ lb.) Cheese, shredded
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1⅓ cup water

Break mince meat into small pieces and put into small saucepan. Add the ½ cup water. Place over low heat and stir until lumps are thoroughly broken. Increase heat and boil mince meat briskly for 3 minutes or until almost dry, stirring often. Cool. Combine mince meat, ground beef and cheese. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Put mixture into a well-greased bomb mold. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until firm and brown, about 1 hour. Turn out on platter. If desired, put strips of cheese on top of loaf to look like lacings of a football and garnish with finely shredded cheese mounded on water cress to look like chrysanthemums.

• • •

HOT CREAMED POTATOES.
(Makes 6 servings)

6 medium-size potatoes
2 cups Sour Cream
3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
Salt
Pepper

Boil potatoes in their jackets until tender. Cool. Remove jackets and cut potatoes into pieces. Put sour cream in skillet; add potatoes. Heat slowly until sour cream bubbles over the potatoes. Add onion. When the potatoes are thoroughly heated, season with salt and pepper. Serve at once. Garnish with paprika or parsley.

BREAD CONFECTIONS
(Makes 21)

1 can (15 oz.) Sweetened Condensed Milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups dry, shredded coconut
Orange food coloring
1 loaf day-old bread, thinly sliced
Orange marmalade

Combine sweetened condensed milk and vanilla in a small bowl. Put coconut into a jar, add a drop or two of orange food coloring, being careful not to add too much; cover jar and shake until coconut is evenly colored; put into small bowl and break coconut fine. Cut two 2-inch rounds from each slice of bread. Spread half the rounds with sweetened condensed milk mixture; then spread with marmalade. Top each spread round with a plain bread round. Dip one flat surface and sides of each sandwich in sweetened condensed milk mixture; drain; dip in colored coconut. Put on ungreased cookie sheet, plain surface down. Continue until all circles are coated. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes; do not let coconut brown. Remove at once from cookie sheet. Cool.

Dance To Be Sponsored By Sorority

A public street dance on Saturday evening, Oct. 29, following the Halloween parade, will be sponsored by members of the Epsilon Tau chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority. The round and square dancing will be held at the A. B. Grafton lot on Park avenue west.

The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Miss Mary Denig, tickets; Mrs. Manning Perkins and Mrs. Carl Laubscher, orchestra; decorations, Miss Alice Karsmizski and Miss Miriam Hardin; publicity, Miss Paula Brunk and Miss Lois Uhrich; refreshments, Mrs. Doris Massa; clean - up, Mrs. Frank Hoffer.

The members met this week at the club rooms for a cultural program in charge of Miss Hardin. Mrs. Raymond Phipps read several well known poems. "Patriotism" by Scott. "Crossing the Bar" by Tennyson, "Annabel Lee" by Poe and "Little Boy Blue" by Fields.

Miss Hardin defined poetry and gave an interesting talk on the subject. Plans were made during the business session to hold meetings on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. The next regular meeting is scheduled for Oct. 27. The announcement of the Ritual of Jewels will be made at a later date.

E. L. K. Sewing Circle Convenes

The first meeting of the year for members of the E. L. K. Sewing Circle was held this week at the Women's Club with Mrs. F. J. Schuster as hostess. Sixteen members and one guest, Mrs. Gilbert, were present. Luncheon was served at noon.

During the afternoon the group completed 26 pieces of sewing for the Mansfield General Hospital. The next meeting will be held at the Women's Club with Mrs. Harry Soulen as hostess on Oct. 26.

Try this for a good-tasting salad. Arrange drained canned cling peach halves in lettuce cups and fill with finely shredded cabbage and chopped green pepper that has been mixed with mayonnaise. A bit of grated lemon rind in the dressing adds another very delicious accent.

There's a new coffee product on the market which is based on the tea bag principle. Each bag contains a condensed and concentrated blend of both soluble and roasted granular coffee. They come packaged in a vacuum can with 18 bags to the can.

Check Your Popularity

TRY to make a deposit in your popularity bank every day. You'll be sure to be the belle of the school year.

You don't become popular by wearing the most expensive clothes or by being the prettiest girl in the class or by dating the handsomest man. Popular girls always lead selfless lives. In lending a helping hand to less resourceful classmates, they build up a great store of friends and their stock goes up on the popularity chart.

What do they get out of it? Most of them find that the inner satisfaction of helping someone and winning friends is by far their biggest reward. Further, they find their own problems seem to melt away. Here are ways you can become popular by the unselfish route:

Be kind. Never hold up a girl to ridicule because she has a small wardrobe and smaller bank account or because her parents do not measure up to yours. She deserves the same chance as the wealthiest and most well-bred girl in school.

Be charitable. Don't engage in gossip about any of your school chums. Try to look behind the flaws to see the good. And don't try to use the "analytical" excuse. This is when Mary says of her best chum Betty, "I'm so crazy about Betty but I wish she wouldn't be such a drip on a party." If Mary is crazy about Betty, she doesn't point up her flaws to anyone else.

Be reasonable. Don't always be ready with the harsh retort. If someone gives you constructive criticism, accept it in the right spirit.

Be sweet. You will always get more with sugar than with vinegar. If someone is jealous of you and shows it, feel sorry for them. You always can win out by ignoring their attitude and being agreeable. This will serve to embarrass them into shelving their hate campaign or it will at least keep others off their band wagon.

Be helpful. The Lord didn't give everybody a beautiful brain. Share yours with somebody else. You may save a dumb girl many unhappy moments by ironing out school problems which she cannot grasp in the classroom. If you are smarter than she, how can she ever be serious competition to you, anyway?

Be loyal. If a chum makes a mistake, stick by her. Don't let her down because the school pack has turned up its noses. That is the time when she needs your friendship more than ever.

Be generous. Penny-pinching, budget - minded people always look and act the part. You don't have to give away your last sou. But by sharing with others less fortunate than yourself you are buying happiness, something your miserly school friends can never purchase with their stuffed piggy-banks.

Be courageous. When you are right stick by your guns. Don't back down when the going looks tough. And, always be willing to admit it when you are wrong.

HOROSCOPE

For Sunday, October 16
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

IT may be difficult to make much headway under existing planetary auspices, so it might as well be set aside as a day of diversion and relaxation. It may be well to shun extravagance in expenditures on these since there are signs of loss, excesses, overdoing and other hazards to health, valuables and prestige in business as well as private life. Rest may sidestep this.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves disposed to take long chances, to plunge, gamble or otherwise jeopardize their possessions, valuables and peace of mind, at home and in business relations.

A child born on this day may have extravagant notions, and a disposition to step outside bounds of economy and good sense thereby forfeiting progress, pleasant relations and aid from high places.

Drive carefully tonight and tomorrow—and don't forget to make ready for winter driving.

Word comes that in next year's census, twice as many questions will be asked as in 1940—and thus does inflation go on and on.

There seems to be a lot more variety in this fall's football prognostications than there was in certain prophecies being made at this time last year.

Verdict Outlaws Communists

THAT LONG-DRAWN-OUT trial of eleven top leaders of the Communist party in the United States has finally come to an end—with conviction of all of the defendants on charges of conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of our government.

While this trial ran tiresomely through 39 weeks and cost the United States an estimated million dollars, the verdict of the jury—made up of eight women and four men—cannot be regarded as ending the matter, which, in all probability, will wind up in the Supreme Court for final determination of issues involved.

Insofar as the just-finished trial is concerned, the verdict seems tantamount to outlawing the Communist party in the United States, as the convicted men all held positions of leadership in the party's "politburo" and directed the course of communist activities in this country.

During the course of the trial it was testified by government witnesses that the Communist party in the United States was reorganized after 1945, on orders from Moscow that it take a more militant line, and that it plotted to gain control of key industries, to eventually seize violent control of the government itself, and that plans were discussed for an invasion of this country by the Soviet army.

First such trial ever held in this country, and probably the longest in federal court history, it is estimated that jurors listened to more than five million words, many spoken with bitterness, anger and high emotion, and some in such utter contempt of orderly court processes as to justify punishment of offending attorneys for the defense.

Outstanding in the whole affair was the admirable behavior of Federal Judge Harold Medina, who was able to maintain judicial calmness in the face of insults and badgering such as few judges would tolerate.

Communist threat now is that, if outlawed, the party will "go underground"—use of which word brings the thought that, had such a movement against the government been fomented in their beloved Russia its instigators and supporters would have been "underground" long before now.

Shirley Temple Asks For Divorce

ANOTHER of those "perfect" Hollywood marriages has gone on the rocks—this time it is the babyish Shirley Temple who sobbingly announces failure of her first matrimonial venture, which she had planned to be "for keeps."

Married at 17, and now the mother of a two-year-old daughter, Shirley is best remembered as a child star of the movies—naturally somewhat spoiled by attention and probably poorly equipped for congenial home life.

But in the Hollywood environment, and with the marital flops of some of the current Roosevelts as an example of matrimonial impermanency, what more could be expected of such a pampered child as Shirley?

Harvard Abandons Discrimination

THE LAST discrimination against women students in the graduate schools at Harvard University will go into the discard next year, when the law school will admit women. It was only last June that Harvard conferred a medical degree on a woman student for the first time. Although the divinity school still will not give a degree to a woman, all of the Harvard graduate schools now will be open to women.

A strange note attending the capitulation of the law school to the emancipation of woman is the fact that for two years, while the school was still for men students only, its sacred halls were trod by a woman professor of law.

Matthews Unqualified For Navy Post

THE grave danger of appointments to high office made only on the basis of political reward is revealed in the case of Secretary of the Navy Francis Matthews.

This appointment, made at a time when there was desperately critical need for public confidence in the armed services, was obviously wrong from the first. In Matthews' long biography in Who's Who, there is not a single item that suggests preparation for the Navy job.

There is, however, plenty to indicate why a political party might want to reward him and use his services in future campaigns. There is evidence that in the mid-western region where he lived for many years he has the connections which might help in winning that region from the Republican party.

There is evidence of having held administrative posts for the federal government that are sources of real political power. When Matthews was appointed he made the rather strange joke that his only link with the Navy was a rowboat in Minnesota.

But a secretary of the navy must, if he is to be effective, have more than that. He must have the capacity to gain and hold the confidence of professional Navy men of high intellectual powers and proven experience, such as King, Halsey, Nimitz, Spruance, Denfield, Radford and a host of others

He must hold the confidence of hundreds of officers of lower rank who have given everything they have to the Navy. He must also deserve the respect of thousands now in civil life who have served the Navy in one or both wars. And he must be a distinguished head of a service that is literally the pride of the whole nation.

For it should hardly be necessary to remind Americans that from the days of John Paul Jones and Oliver Hazard Perry the Navy has held a very special distinction in our national life.

At the end of the recent war it was not only the greatest navy in the world but the greatest in the history of the world. Matthews was placed at the head of that Navy at a moment when it was with every justification believed in the Navy that the administration was intent upon subordinating, weakening and reducing it to a mere carrier and auxiliary service.

* * *

Speech Reveals Ignorance.

SOON after his induction, Matthews stepped outside Navy affairs to make a speech in Portland, Oregon. He was asked the No. 1 question in the northwest. Was he for or against a Columbia Valley Authority? He indicated that he was not for it.

But when he read his speech he endorsed the project. There was thus created the impression that he was hardly acquainted with the speech he was to deliver and that possibly the speech had been prepared for him.

In his testimony before the House armed services committee last week he read a statement projecting his own estimate of Navy morale, in contradiction to the opinions of high officers whose lifetime duty has been to know and create the morale of the service. Then under questioning Matthews betrayed pathetically indaequate knowledge of his service.

Once before, the President sought to place in a high spot in the Navy a man to whom the Democratic party owed a great debt of gratitude, Edwin W. Pauley. Fortunately, this appointment was frustrated in the Senate.

When the dread of atomic war is over us all, the public is entitled to thorough enlightenment on the points raised by Admiral Radford and other Navy men.

The charges they have made have been known a long time, but because of official suppression they were only fitfully revealed. That created suspicion without enlightenment. Now suspicion should end in the light of all the facts.

Worried By Escapes.

Editor News-Journal.

Why must this community be subjected to terrorism from escaping reformatory inmates? The anxiety that accompanies these all too frequent escapes may not be present in the minds of city dwellers but we in the country don't like it.

It would seem a good idea for reformatory authorities to make a thorough check to find out why all these escapes and to take steps to halt them. I'm sure a great many people feel as I do on this matter.

I note in the News-Journal that the ninth reformatory inmate had escaped in the past two weeks. It seems to me it is about time taxpayers of Richland county get busy and demand the reason.

The Hollenbaugh family are old neighbors and one just doesn't like to think of what could happen in a case of that kind.

Reformatory inmates are either given too much freedom or the guard system is inadequate. One would like to go to their rest at night without feeling that they too might answer a knock at the door and be told "This is a holdup."

Looks like we should all have our shotguns ready and close at hand. I hope people in this locality will start writing letters to proper authorities.

Politicians Taking Look At the Record

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

THREE extra Senate races—in New York, Connecticut and Idaho—will aid the mathematical chances for a 1950 swing in Senate control from the Democrats to Republicans.

The death a week ago of Sen. Bert H. Miller (D-Idaho) is expected to bring early appointment of a Republican successor by GOP Gov. C. A. Robins of Idaho. Before Miller's death the Democrats had 53, the Republicans 43.

The margin will revert to 10 votes before Congress meets in January because Sen. Raymond E. Baldwin (R-Conn) will quit in December to take a post on his state's high court. Democratic Gov. Chester Bowles will fill the vacancy with a member of his party.

Dulles vs. Lehman.

The count then would be 53 Democrats, 43 Reupblicans—if Sen. John Foster Dulles wins next month's special election in New York to keep for another year the seat to which he was appointed by Gov. Dewey.

If Dulles' opponent, former Democratic Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, wins, the Democrats would start the new year with 12 more Senate members than the GOP.

Meanwhile the first session of the Democratic 81st Congress has enacted less than half of President Truman's program into law.

The President can chalk up 15 major accomplishments from the Congress he helped carry into office by his vigorous campaign in last year's election.

Left as unfinished business for the 1950 congressional campaign are a number of highly controversial proposals among the 22 requests he laid before the present session without getting final action.

Chief of these, of course, is Taft-Hartley repeal. The President was unceremoniously turned down in both houses on that issue.

The President can be counted on to revive his labor proposals in January. Whether Congress will do anything about them may depend on how some of the special elections to fill Senate and House vacancies turn out this fall.

Social Security.

The House passed a bill broadening the base and increasing benefits of the Social Security program. The Senate approved an aid to education bill. In January the Administration will bring pressure to bear on completion of both these actions, both parts of the Truman program.

The President undoubtedly will press for action on compulsory health insurance. That may provide the most crucial fight of the second session.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

PRIME MINISTER NEHRU has been here since Tuesday and hasn't asked for money . . . There is something very suspicious about this man.

* * *

He didn't come all the way from India for a 19 gun salute, a dinner at Blair House and a ticket to "South Pacific."

* * *

But if he did, he's sure ruining it for the gents who come over with empty pockets in their tweeds and a treasury look in their eyes.

* * *

Not that we can't afford a few more loans . . . Secretary Snyder says national income is four billion higher than last year. It may even take longer for the treasury to take it back than it did last year.

* * *

It would seem that with all the money available we could buy the Navy a few more sailboats.

* * *

The big argument there seems to be that the Navy wants to carry planes and the Air Force wants to fly them.

Vorys' Little Joke.

A man named LaRoy had given away $15,000—to Washington cab drivers waitresses and casual pedestrians—before police whisked him away to a hospital to have his head examined.

The incident gave Rep. John M Vorys of Ohio an opportunity to needle the "fair dealers" where it hurt. A man who hands out $100 bills to passersby doesn't belong in a mental ward, said Vorys—he belongs in President Truman's cabinet. Or maybe, he went on, it was to be assumed that the poor fellow was crazy because it was his own money that he was giving away.

Mr. Truman's disciples were not amused. We suspect that they were annoyed by Vory's little joke because it was potentially so dangerous to their political philosophy.—Akron Beacon Journal.

IF THERE was one thing I thought had been completely devalued it was the goose step. But it's going strong again in Berlin and the rest of Russian-controlled Germany.

The Germans goose-stepped themselves into two terrible world wars, both of which they lost. And the last one made a shambles of their country. You would suppose they had had enough of goose stepping.

At Home

Mining By Electricity.

The University of Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy is demonstrating that coal can be turned to gas by sending an electric current through it.

The process is known technically as "electrocarbonization." With it, researchers say, it will be possible to heat homes and cook meals by utilizing coal that is still underground.

The School of Mines is operating the experiment at the Tiger Mine, near Hume, Mo., owned by the Sinclair Coal Co.

Dr. J. D. Forrester of the college faculty says the methods employed, when worked on a commercial scale "will contribute to cheaper commodities for the public benefit, and also make some large coal and oil deposits, heretofore unrecoverable, available for use."

Trade Fairs Planned.

Three cities—Chicago, Detroit and Atlantic City—plan to hold international trade fairs in 1950—the first ever held in the United States.

International trade fairs are quite unlike the "world fairs" held in America in the past. They are not designed to appeal to the general public although the public may be admitted on specific days when crowds will not interfere with business.

International trade fairs aim at increasing world trade by bringing together businessmen, buyers and sellers from all over the world. The sellers are equipped with samples and are ready to take orders.

Announcement by the three American cities—all within a week — has taken on somewhat the air of a race, climaxing months of consideration.

20-Year Breathing Spell.

Atom bomb scientist Enrico Fermi predicts that if the United States maintains atomic supremacy over the Soviet Union there will be no war for at least 20 years.

"American supremacy is predictable up to 20 years if we work hard," declares Fermi, Italian-born American scientist and Nobel Prize winner in physics. "As for me, I expect to sleep as well as my insomnia permits. I'm a fatalist by nature, anyway."

Fermi was a leader in the development of the first atom bomb exploded near Los Alamos, N. M., in 1945. A physics professor at the University of Chicago, he is now a visiting lecturer on physics at the University of Rome. He will return to the U. S. later this month.

Militant Episcopalians.

The Episcopal Church of the United States wound up its two weeks' triennial convention at San Francisco last week with a Bishops' pastoral letter calling for a militant church.

The pastoral letter, representing the thinking of all the bishops, urged an aggressive campaign during the next three years against "a worldwide attack on freedom."

It cited religious illiteracy as a basic weakness of the church and warned:

"Like a pendulum between two extremes, we have moved from an exaggerated individualism to a demonic collectivism, from an individualistic anarchy to a collectivist tyranny.

"As God's children we are neither bricks in the building of the state, nor irresponsible individuals.

"We have been contaminated by the secular humanism of our time . . . that is why we call our people to crusade for better Christian education."

Abroad

Red German State.

Proclamation of the new German state with a capital in Berlin has provided the Kremlin with a new soviet statellite republic. It is another step in the Red drive for a unified Germany which can be brought under control of Moscow.

A provisional government with Otto Grotewohl as premier and Wilhelm Pieck as president was proclaimed by the parliament and will hold office until the elections next year.

There is little doubt that the new republic soon will be admitted to the Cominform bloc in eastern Europe.

Left Face For Czechs.

If there is a single Czech a year from now who cannot read and speak the Russian language, it will not be the fault of the communist - dominated Prague government.

In probably the greatest effort in modern history to teach an entire nation a foreign language, Russian courses were launched last week for young and old in schools, factories and clubs.

Meanwhile the government will take over control of all churches in Czechoslovakia on November 1. Under the new church control bill, the state will pay salaries of all priests and pastors as civil servants.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill): "There are a lot of highly marcelled secretaries and typists whose services (to the government) could be dispensed with without any loss of efficiency."

In Short

Announced: By ECA, a $95,000,000 public works program for Italy, underwritten by Marshall plan funds.

Freed: By Chinese Nationalists, two American merchant vessels held for attempting to run blockade of Chinese Communist ports.

Agreed: By 31 nations at the Annecy, France, economic conference, on new tariff schedules to help lift world trade barriers.

Estimated: By experts of the three western occupation powers, that $250,000,000 will be needed to overcome economic effects of the Russian blockade of Berlin.

Bantering Raccoons

By LOIS ADAMS BYERS

THE LADY from Newark adjusted her position upon our rustic bench to suit the placement of the slabs that form the back.

"I used to like to hunt," she said. "I remember one morning when I had gone into the woods very early, hoping to try out a new gun. It was one of those misty, calm mornings—still dark in the woods. I sat down on a stump to watch daylight come and to listen to the woods voices.

"Just above me, an oak branch came out. A jagged snag on the main trunk had made me suspect that squirrels might hide there.

"Pretty soon something moved along the limb and I leveled the gun, looked over the sights and waited for the gray squirrel to give me a target. But it wasn't a squirrel!

A mother raccoon's bantering gargoyle phiz peeked down at me, with a smaller little face me, like her own beside her. They weren't afraid. They were taking inventory of me. They played around, ignoring me, for quite awhile. Finally I could see that there were three shiny-eyed, black-masked little raccoons."

"How many did you shoot?" I wondered.

She jumped a little, then smiled. "Not any. It wouldn't have been lawful, anyway—but they were too cunning. But most likely they will always have a family joke about how they outstared and out-stayed a woman hunter!"

* * *

THE LADY'S husband spoke. "A friend of mine had a tame raccoon that he kept around the house like a cat. He taught it to hunt "crawdads" for bait when he wanted to go fishing. He would lead the raccoon on a leash—it had a little hinged collar with a long thin chain. They'd go along the streams, with the coon down at the edge of the water, and when they came to a crawfish's hole, Coony would reach a curving arm and paw around to see inside. You know how crawfish dig into the bank and hide. Whenever Coony'd touch one, he would cock his head sidewise, look up at his master, and grin with unmistakable satisfaction."

* * *

"I'M NOT much acquainted with raccoons," I said. "But for emphatic facial expression it'd be hard to beat a certain bleary-eyed old bullfrog in our pond. He's a croaker with a basso-profundo voice who never opens his big mouth except for another "Jug-o'-rum! Jug-o'-rum!"

Penicillin Dust Helpful

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IT IS NOW two years since the breathing of penicillin in dust forms as a treatment for infections of the nose, throat and lungs was given its first trial.

More recently it has been used in more than 1000 cases of various types of infection of the breathing organs and found to live up to its first promise.

The penicillin dust treatment has certain advantages. It is simple and inexpensive. It can be used in the home as well as in the hospital. In dust form, penicillin does not have to be kept in the icebox, nor does it need to be diluted or mixed with other preparations before it is used.

There is no pain or inconvenience associated with its use. With the dust the effects of the penicillin are maintained over a period of several hours.

Secondary Infections.

Penicillin cannot be expected to affect the virus which is probably responsible for colds. However, there are often secondary infections which cause colds to persist. Hence with the penicillin dust treatment, the course of a cold may be shortened materially.

Penicillin dust also seems to be helpful in the treatment of acute sinus infections. In chronic sinus infections it may be of value if measures are instituted to make sure that the sinus is draining properly.

Inflammation of the windpipe and larynx or voicebox, when due to infection, may also respond to the penicillin dust treatment. This treatment has also been found helpful in both acute and chronic bronchitis.

In a condition of the lungs known as bronchiectasis in which the bronchi or small tubes in the lungs are dilated or stretched, producing such symptoms as cough, loss of weight or strength and the bringing up of large amounts of sputum, penicillin dust has been very beneficial in some cases.

Nehru Seen As Key Figure In Far East

BY J. C. OESTREICHER

THE [illegible] Nationalists from the [illegible] Prime Minister [illegible] to Colombo, Nehru's visit to Ceylon [illegible] to other vital areas of the Far East.

India's Pandit Nehru is believed to be the one man capable—if backed by the power and prestige of the United States—of rousing the populations of these lands to stiff resistance against communist infiltration.

With Chungking, deep in the Yangtse river gorges, again chosen as the Nationalist hideaway capital of China, it seems evident that for the present at least Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has written off the whole of eastern China as lost.

As a result, the fast-moving militarists and propagandists of communist leader Mao Tse-Tung have come within striking distance of communist sympathizers in the Philippines, Indonesia, the Malay states, Burma, Siam and French Indo-China.

All of these distant lands have had their share of communist uprisings and at best nothing more than an uneasy peace prevails.

Mao's war-cry is China for the Chinese although he has not yet molested foreign trade and business to an appreciable degree.

But it is obvious that communist masterminds, either in some hidden Far Eastern counterpart of the Comintern, or in the Kremlin itself, hope to capitalize on the China victories to spread their power throughout the Oriental world.

Just what Nehru can or will do in the circumstances is problematical of course.

But his first visit to the United States at the age of 60 obviously is more than a sightseeing tour to Mount Vernon and Niagara Falls.

At his own conference of Far Eastern statesmen in New Delhi last year, Nehru showed his ability to unite widely-separated racial and religious groups on a basis of self-protection and national pride.

A scholar and historian, he is well acquainted with the ancient cultures of scattered lands which were old in legends and traditions when the New World was undiscovered and the European continent a barbaric assemblage of warring tribesmen.

He is thus in a position to emphasize to the Far East the danger it faces of being swallowed up in an avalanche of anonymity, its cherished manners and customs trampled down under the heel of foreign dictatorships.

Thus far, the actual purposes of Nehru's visit to President Truman have been surrounded with considerable mystery.

This strengthens the belief in many circles that it is of most profound importance and may result in some momentous declaration.
